SOUTHERN FAIR NOW PROPOSED FOR LAKEWOOD

Exposition Idea Meets Enthusiasm From Everybody.

REALTY MEN FAVOR PLAN

Adjoining States and Middle West Eager for Chance to Exhibit in South.

"Atlanta is the logical place not only for an annual state fair, but for annual fair which will be more far-reaching than that," said S. E. Davidson, sales manager of Edwin P. Ansley's agency, yesterday, in discussing the plan for the city to convert Lakewood park into a permanent state fair ground, as outlined in Mayor-elect Woodward's exclusive interview in The Constitution Sunday morning.

"I am heartily in favor of the Lakewood scheme," continued Mr. Davidson, "and by 'more far-reaching' I mean that if the fair is run on anything like the scale that Atlanta and the state of Georgia are capabale of operating it, Georgia will not be the only state to exhibit. I visited the Illinois state fair at Springfield recently and I know that those fellows up there in the north and middle west are dead crazy for a chance to enter exhibits in the south in just such a fair as is being planned. I see The Constitution published this morning telegrams from some of the counties indorsing it. That's the best indication I've seen. When the state begins to want it, it's an assured success. Put me down for the project—with a big 'F' on the for!"

Many Favor Plan.

Many other people declared themselves heartily in favor of Mr. Woodward's plan yesterday. The concensus of opinion seems to be that Atlanta needs the fair and the city's idle property needs the improvement and any income that may be derived therefrom.

J. H. Ewing, who is recognized as one of the most expert realty men in the city, said, "I am for the fair—strong! Improve that property put there permanently and in first-class shape and not only will it be an asset to the city, but it will do wonders for the enhancement of realty values on the southside and, I believe, will do more to develop that part of the city than anything else just at present. The city made the wisest move it ever made when it held on to the property. There ought to be a law to keep a city from disposing of its real estate, anyway."

Ralph O. Cochran, representative-elect from Fulton county, also declared himself fairly and squarely in favor of the Lakewood park proposition."

Legislator Indorses Movement.

"I think it's a good thing," said Mr. Cochran. "Not only will it net the city a dividend, but it will be a most valuable asset to the state, if conducted in the right way. By the right way, I mean that in converting Lakewood into a fair ground, it should be the object of the city to establish a fair which will be of the highest possible educational value to the people of both the city and the state. The citizens of Georgia and adjoining states would come to such a fair by the thousands, and no opportunity like that should be overlooked."

Another well-known citizen of Atlanta who expressed his warm approbation on Thursday was Charles P. Glover, president of the Atlanta Real Estate board. Said Mr. Glover:

"Lakewood should by all means be improved in such a substantial way that its benefits will accrue for years to come. The Auditorium has meant more to Atlanta than all its supporters ever hoped for. Lakewood converted into a real exposition park will be the means of bringing hundreds of thousands of people to Atlantain years to come. Such people are good spenders and will leave new money with us. The city will get back in increased values far more than it will cost. 'Let's have it right now!'"

Many other citizens have already expressed themselves in favor of the plan, as have also many members of council and a majority of the board of county commissioners. Counties and chambers of commerce from other parts of the state are sending in their approvals. Altogether it appears that there is really no one who does not want the Lakewood converted into a fair ground, and the principal question upon everybody's lips seems to be, "Well, why don't we go ahead and do it?"

CLAYTON TO GET MORE AUTHORITY

Reorganization of Construction Department Almost Complete.

Radical Changes in Paving Work and Salary for Street Chairman Recommended.

The task of reorganizing the construction department of the city is practically complete. The committee appointed for that purpose went over the ordinance framed by Councilman C. W. Smith and agreed to it in nearly every particular, and will recommend it to council with amendments which will give the chief of the department more authority to force delinquent contractors to perform work more rapidly and in conformity with the specifications.

The committee will recommend the appointment of a paving inspector in addition to an assistant chief of construction. Both are to be experienced men, named by the chief and ratified by the street committee.

Put Street Chairman on Salary.

Possibly the committee may later on urge council to put the chairman of the street committee on a salary.

Alderman James R. Nutting believes that the city will gain by allowing the chairman a salary. He said that he was positive that Chairman Hatcher, of the present committee, gave the city service that was worth many thousand dollars.

The committee will also urge that the inspector be placed in charge of sewer work, sidewalk construction and street repair work, in addition to the paving inspector's duties.

The committee believes that in the appointment of an assistant chief of construction much of the complaint would be eliminated, as there would be a department head in the office at all times. The establishment of a bureau of information, to handle complaints and give office data will also be embodied in the report to council.

Radical Change in Paving Method.

There will be a radical change in the present method of street paving. Council will be asked to insist that the contracts be divided into sections and that the contractors be required to finish each section at a specified time and paid on approval. The system of paving appropriations will be changed so that council members shall be required to make a definite schedule not later than the first meeting in March.

The committee will place stress on that section of the ordinance which will require city departments and public utility corporations to hurry work. The section authorizes the chief of construction to make cases against delinquents and provides for fines, not more than $100, for violations.

The ordinance abolishes the present system of transporting convicts from the stockade to public works. Councilman Smith says that he conferred with the railway company and learned that the city could have convicts and crushed stone transported at half the present cost.

The committee will have another meeting before council meets Monday afternoon.

SKULL AND BONES SHOWN TO WIDOW

"Third Degree" Given Mrs. Jacobson on Trial for Murder of Her Husband.

Houlton, Maine, December 12.—How she was brought into a small room by a detective and there confronted with the skull and some of the bones of her husband laid on a white cloth was told on the witness stand in the supreme court today by Mrs. Annie Jacobson, who, with her son Edgar, and her son-in-law, the Rev. Charles M. Emellus, is on trial for the alleged murder of August Jacobson. Both Mrs. Jacobson and Edgar were called as witnesses. Emellus is expected to testify tomorrow.

Mrs. Jacobson said a detective escorted her to the district attorney's office and continued:

"When I went in, right in front of me they had some bones on a white cloth. Dr. Boone began to explain something about the bones, and after that something was said about why the coroner was not there at the time it happened, when he died. I told them I was sick and did not know. The detective told me I was not sick because I felt bad for my husband, for I hated him. And after that he said I had lied about the shots. I told him I hadn't lied."

Edgar Jacobson testified that he had had words with his father and had left home on the Sunday night preceding the tragedy. He went directly to the home of Otto Jepson, he said, and did not learn of his father's death until the next morning when he was called home by a telephone message saying something had happened to the elder Jacobson.

CONVICTED DIAMOND THIEF, DENIED BOND, IS FREE WITHOUT JUDGE'S ORDER; SOLICITOR ASKS REARREST

GEORGE KAUL. CARL RODDY. GEORGE WREN.

Although convicted of complicity in the $50,000 diamond trunk robbery of last April and sentenced to twelve months in the convict camps, bond being denied on motion for a new trial, George Wren, the young Atlanta medical student, has obtained his freedom on bond through the mazes of the Georgia court system and has left the state.

While his companions on the night of the robbery, Carl Roddy, another medical student, and George Kaul, the Piedmont hotel steward, are serving out their sentences at hard labor in the Georgia convict camps, young Wren is free without an order from the court. He was seen a few days ago in Birmingham, Ala., where it is said, he went to enter college and complete his medical course.

Who Is Responsible?

Now his rearrest has been ordered, and the searchlight of inquiry has been turned on the Georgia court system to find out who is responsible for the freedom of a man convicted and denied bond.

When Solicitor General Hugh Dorsey discovered Thursday afternoon that Judge Price Edwards, who conducted Wren's trial and sentenced him on October 24, had never authorized any bond, he got busy and searched the records of the sheriff's and the clerk's offices in a vain effort to find authority for Wren's release.

He found from the sheriff's office that a bond for $5,000, signed by one J. T. Mangum as bondsman, and approved by Frank Myers, deputy clerk of the criminal court, had been presented by Wren's lawyers, Gober & Jackson, on November 20. Although the law requires that such a bond be approved by the clerk, Arnold Broyles, Sheriff Wheeler Mangum stated that it was customary to realese a man if a bond was approved by the deputy clerk, Frank Myers.

Captain Myers, the veteran of the courthouse files, was turned to, in order to place the responsibility.

"Why, yes, I approved the bond. What of it?" answered the captain. "His lawyers presented it to me, and the bondsman was good. The judge had signed the motion for a new trial. Why shouldn't I have approved the bond?"

Judge Had Denied Bond.

But the continued investigation of Solicitor Dorsey revealed the fact that although Judge Price Edwards had signed the motion for a new trial, and had the authority to grant a "supersedeas bond" in his discretion, which would ha vereleased Wren pending the hearing of the motion, in this particular case the judge had denied granting that bond.

"After Wren was convicted and sentenced to 12 months, Judge Edwards superseded the sentence pending the hearing of the motion for a new trial," said Solicitor Dorsey Thursday in outlining the peculiar situation.

"The effect of this order was to cause the imprisonment of Wren in the Fulton county jail until the motion was disposed of. Judge Edwards, in open court positively refused to assess a bond and allow Wren to go at large. He stated that in his opinion the law permitting defendants after conviction to go at large was a bad law and should be repealed. I was surprised to hear that Wren, notwithstanding this, was at large.

No Record Can Be Found.

"Since the matter has been called to my attention I have searched the records and minutes and I find no order from Judge Edwards authorizing this man's release. Accordingly I have suggested to the proper officers that Wren be immediately rearrested if it can be done. Of course, I do not know who is culpabel for the release of a convict without an order from the judge of the court which tried him, as provided by law."

Solicitor Dorsey went further and condemned, just as Judge Price Edwards did at the time of Wren's conviction, the Georgia law by means of which a convicted person is released on bond pending the hearing of his motion for a new trial, and he declared that if it had not been for this practice of granting bonds after conviction, an ungranted bond could never have slipped through and carried a convict

YOUTH THREATENED TO MURDER WILSON

Alleged 17-Year-Old Boy Planned to Shoot the President-Elect.

New York, December 12.—Herman Steinberg, a 17-year-old boy, who is alleged to have declared that he was going over to New Jersey and shoot President-elect Wilson, was arrested here this afternoon and held without bail. A loaded revolver was found in his pocket.

The youth was standing in front of a police station shivering in the cold when a detective questioned him. "This is not a fit country to live in," he declared, according to the detective. "It's no place for me to work. I can't go back to Russia, so I would rather go to jail, but I would like to shoot Wilson and my boss and all the judges first."

The detective searched him and took the revolver away, arresting him on a charge of violating the law prohobiting the carrying of dangerous weapons.

In court a fruit dealer who formerly employed the lad appeared as witness to previous threats the boy had made to "kill Wilson," which led to his discharge. In court the boy admitted making the threats and was held without bail.

KIDNAPER OF CHILD GRIPPED BY THE LAW

Hooks Arrested in Mobile---His Partner in Macon---$6,000 Reward for Dunbar Boy.

Mobile, Ala., December 12.—The alleged kidnaper of 4-year-old Robert Dunbar, of Opelousas, La., and for whose apprehension a reward of $6,000 has been offered, was lodged in the police station here today after a week's investigation by Burns' detectives. At the police station the individual gave his name as Edgar Hooks, 35 years of age, a resident of Birmingham. Hooks said that he was a peddler by occupation.

The Dunbar child was not in the man's possession, but Chief of Police Crenshaw, who first received an inkling as to the presence of the man in Mobile, stated that the evidence against Hooks was regarded by the Burns detectives as most conclusive, and that the man under arrest knows where the child is. A confederate of Hooks, who is believed to also know the whereabouts of the Dunbar child, is said to be in Macon, Ga.

Hooks enters an absolute denial, but Chief Crenshaw states that detectives have traced the man's movements from Opelousas to New Orleans, along the coast to Mobile, from this city to Pensacola, thence over the Louisville and Nashville north of here to a place on the Alabama river known as Dixie. Hooks says that his wife, who has been in Mobile with him for more than a month, resides at Dixie.

BOW LEGS AND KNOCK KNEES IN RELATION TO NAVIGATION CONSIDERED BY CONGRESSMEN

Washington, December 12.—Whether bow-legs are greater menaces to navigation than knock-knees still is an open question, in spite of arguments made before the National Press club tonight by Representative Sulzer, governor-elect of New York, and Representative Stanley, of Kentucky, in condemnation of bow legs, and Senators Penrose and Gore in equally vigorous denunciation of knock-knees. Referee John Hays Hammond, who was President Taft's special ambassador to the coronation of King George V, decided that neither offered serious obstruction and read a cablegram from the international board of navigation in Berlin to bear him out.

Before the debate began Mr. Hammond forced the contestants to rise and shake hands, "to show there was no hard feeling."

Representative Sulzer attributed to bow legs virtually all the diseases known to medical science, from "corns to consumption." He declared that history could show no bow-legged hero, while Moses, Socrates, Hannibal and scores of others "interfered" in their knees. He closed by quoting.

"A man knock-kneed,
Is a friend indeed."

Senator Penrose insisted that there was no place in creation for the knock-kneed man. A man so afflicted, he said, on going home from his club in the early hours would be in a state of collapse in the road while the bow-legged man would be bowling merrily homeward.

"The bow-legged condition," he said, "is due to a remnant of our physical trait when we lived in trees and climbed up them. The consequence is that the bow-legged man is full of the vigor of the gorilla, or of the primitive man."

Representative Stanley followed with a sweeping denunciation of bow-legs. He said he could prove by the frescoes and paintings of Raphael and other old masters that the angels they pictured were universally knock-kneed.

"Senator Gore assailed the framers of the constitution because they had not grappled with the knock-kneed question, 'face to face and feet to feet.' He admitted that the problem was a knotty one, but added that the American people had settled it politically by sending both the knock-kneed republican elephant and the bow-legged bull moose up Salt creek as obstructions to navigation.'"

ONE WEEK MORE IN M. & M. CONTEST

Handsome Prizes Will Be Distributed to Energetic Workers, So Get Busy!

Well, of all the troubles in the world, Gilly the Gopher is having them today, but that is naturally to be expected, this being Friday, the unlucky thirteenth! He is having his troubles in a most excellent cause, however, and they are very laughable troubles. When you have seen him it will be time to see how you stand on winning one of the fine pianos.

One Week More.

In just one week from today The Constitution is going to give away two handsome pianos in the big M. & M. contest, one to a winner in the city of Atlanta and the other to a winner outside of the city. Are you qualified to win one? If you are not, you had better get busy.

A week is not a long time, but it is long enough to get ten labels from each of the grocery products and three of each of the drug products of the M. & M. contest, which it is imperative for you to have before you can qualify. If you have any trouble in getting the qualifying labels the contest department will be glad to put you in line to get them if you will communicate with them.

Home for Incurables Demonstration.

The Home for Incurables will hold its demonstration today and tomorrow at the old Capital City club building at Peachtree and Ellis streets, instead of at No. 203 Peachtree street, as was formerly announced. All the grocery and many other products of the M. & M. contest will be shown at the demonstration. Hot chocolate and other things palatable will be served.

FIRST CASE TO TEST FREIGHT ROUTE RULE

Commission Recommends a Suit Against Seaboard On Rule Requiring Most Practicable Route.

Should Governor Brown act upon a recommendation of the state railroad commission made yesterday, a suit probably will be brought within the next few days by the state against the Seaboard Air Line railroad, which will prove a test of the validity of the freight rule No. 33, of the Georgia railroad commission, requiring railroads to observe the wishes of shippers in routing freight and in shipping by the most reasonable and practicable route where no route is specified.

Such a suit has been recommended to be instituted by the governor as a result of a complaint filed with the railroad commission by W. T. Green, of Clyo, Ga., former member of the legislature. Mr. Green stated in his complaint that recently forty-eight barrels of potatoes were shipped from Clyo to Augusta, and that tney were routed by the Seaboard Air Line to Fairfax, S. C., an interstate route and by a higher freight rate than by the more practical and cheaper route of via Savannah, and thence by the Central of Georgia to Augusta. It was shown that the difference in the freight rate was $4.24 on the shipment, which was collected at Augusta after the usual freight rate had been collected at Clyo.

Rule No. 33 became effective in 1910. This is the first formal complaint lodged with the railroad commission under its provision, although several state suits have been instituted under the act of 1907 for violations of other rules. The penalty provided for a violation of rule No. 33 is from $1,000 to $5,000.

MOTHER'S TEARS AT SON'S SENTENCE MAKE POLICE COURT VISITORS WEEP

The dramatic spectacle of a widowed mother weeping hysterically over the shoulders of an erring son who had been bound over by Recorder Broyles for burglary moved even the hardened audience of police court yesterday afternoon and three uninterested spectators, women, left the courtroom with handkerchiefs to their eyes.

The grief-stricken mother was Mrs. Lizzie Stallings, of 845 East Fair street. She is a middle-aged widow, whose 16-year-old son was arrested Wednesday night for the burglary of a shoe store on East Hunter street. The boy was arraigned before Judge Broyles Thursday afternoon. The widowed mother stood before the recorder with her son. As the sentence came from the judge's lips Mrs. Stallings uttered an inarticulate cry and clasped the form of her son to her breast before the court officer could lead him back to the prison.

The mother's grief was touching. Crying in loud, unrestrained sobs, the pleaded with the court attaches not to deprive her of the wayward boy. She embraced the youth for several minutes before her clasp was broken by an officer. Three women, sitting near the rostrum, arose from their seats and left the courtroom with handkerchiefs to their eyes at conclusion of the pathetic scene.

CLAY WILL HANG AT NOON TODAY

Wife Murderer Goes to Gallows. Silence Unbroken.

Relatives Begged Governor in Vain for Respite and Paid Farewell Visit to Doomed Man.

A well-dressed woman walked into the Tower yesterday and asked to see Robert Lee Clay, sentenced to hang this morning between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock.

"I'm his sister-in-law," she said, "and would like to talk with him before he dies."

Although the jailor assured the woman that the prisoner would talk to no one, she walked eagerly into "murderers' row" to the cell of the condemned man.

"How are you, Bob?" she asked. "You'd better talk now, because it's your last chance. You are to hang tomorrow, and it is only just that you die. You killed our sister, and now we're going to hang you. Don't you want to say something? Haven't you some atonement you want to express?"

The doomed man sat stolidly on his bunk, a dying cigarette between his fingers, and his eyes riveted to the flooring. The woman, after repeated attempts to arouse him to conversation, left the death chamber, flicking from an eyelid with her handkerchief a tear that had arisen from the realization of how cruelly she had talked to the helpless creature behind the bars.

Doomed Man Nears Collapse.

Clay bordered on a collapse throughout Thursday. An examination by County Physician S. H. Green revealed that the condemned man was suffering from a severe nervousness, and probably could not stand greater tension than that which he was undergoing. His pulse was alarming above normal, and a burning fever flushed his cheeks.

Clay's family paid him a final visit shortly before noon. In vain they strived to make him talk. The visit was short, and the grief-stricken relatives gave way to a small band of religious workers, who congregated around the death chamber to sing any pray for the condemned prisoner.

The prisoner, although his appetite has been hearty heretofore, would eat nothing whatever Thursday. His breakfast, dinner and supper were untouched. He remained throughout the day in the same hunched position upon his bunk, incessantly making and smoking cigarettes, littering the floor with half-smoked stubs and matches.

Brother Also Occupies Cell.

A dramatic feature to Clay's case is the fact that his brother was imprisoned Thursday in a cell directly underneath the scaffold, upon which the wife murderer will be hanged today.

John Clay, who was arrested on a warrant for a petty charge, was released on bond Thursday afternoon, so could be free this morning to probably attend his brother's execution. Members of Clay's family again appealed to Governor Brown Thursday at noon. They begged for a thirty days' respite, so the doomed man might better prepare himself for the world to come. The governor refused to interfere with the action of the courts.

WOMAN FIGHTS NEGRO PULLED FROM CLOSET

Mrs. John Arnold Discovers Burglar Who Attacks Her and Escapes.

When Mrs. John Arnold early last night attempted to rout a burglar from her home, 23 Howell Place, West End, the robber choked her almost into insensibility, and grabbing from her hands the revolver she held, fired at the defenseless woman as he fled into the darkness.

Other than being nervously affected from fright, and suffering slightly from the injuries inflicted by the burglar's fingers, Mrs. Arnold was not badly hurt.

Mrs. Arnold was in the front of her residence when she heard a noise in a clothes closet. The daring woman, holding the pistol in readiness, opened the closet door and called for whoever might be within to come out, hands up. A negro emerged from the closet, his hands aloft and assuming an appearance of complete surrender.

Mrs. Arnold commanded the intruder to walk into the hall, where she intended calling one of the children to notify police headquarters. As the burglar backed through the doorway, he broke into a run for the entrance to the back jorch. As he did so, the woman pulled the trigger of her revolver. The hammer fell upon a faulty cap which failed to explode.

"Stop, or I'll shoot you!" shouted Mrs. Arnold.

Catching her unawares, the negro suddenly sprang upon Mrs. Arnold, winding his fingers around her throat, pressing them so vigorously that she was unable to gasp. Swinging her around, she shoved the woman's form against the latticework, choking her until she was limp and unable to resist the attack.

Grabbing the gun, the burglar leaped from the porch, firing one shot as he fled. The abullet pierced the trellis several inches above Mrs. Arnold's head, and ranged through into the weatherboarding. After he had shot at Mrs. Arnold, the fleeing robber dropped th epistol. It was found later by Policemen Gorman and Palmer, who investigated the case.

Mrs. Arnold is prominent in West End social circles. Mr. Arnold is a well-known traveling man. They have been residing in Atlanta for several years.

GAMBLING GAME AS IT IS PLAYED IN WALL STREET

Speculators Use Securities of Customers to Boom Money.

TRICKS OF GAME EXPOSED

Country Banks Furnish Money---Millions Are Loaned in a Day at 20 Per Cent.

Washington, December 12.—The highways and byways of finance as traversed by operators on the New York stock exchange were mapped out before the house banking and currency committee today in its money trust inquiry. Frank K. Sturgis, of the brokerage firm of Strong, Sturgis & Co., former president and member of the board of governors of the stock exchange, told the committee at length about the ways of "the street."

The examination of Mr. Sturgis by Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the committee, bristled with technical discussions and involved digressions. Mr. Sturgis at times insisted on lengthy explanations in answering questions and once flatly declined to answer. His counsel, John G. Milburn, interferred to preserve the calm dignity of the occasion.

The testimony of Mr. Sturgis brought out that the membership of the stock exchange has not been increased since 1869, when it was fixed at 1,100. Since then the business done and the securities listed on the exchange have increased about fifty times over.

Mr. Sturgis declared an increase in membership was unnecessary for the present membership was well able to handle the public's business.

Put Up Stock of Customers.

In a dozen recent failures, Mr. Sturgis admitted, stock exchange houses had carried with them stock owned in part by their customers, but hypothecated by the brokers for more than the real ownership of the broker. In such cases the proceeds of the sale of the bankrupt broker's seat on the exchange goes, it was explained, not to his customers, but to his creditors inside the exchange. Mr. Sturgis thought this was fair and just, as it was a regulation subscribed to by the members in the exchange and recognized by the public.

Stock exchange brokers usually use the stock owned in part by their customers as collateral to support their own loans, Mr. Sturgis said, rehypothecating the securities for a greater amount than is represented in the debt of the customer on the stock. He added that the governors of the exchange would welcome any suggestion that would put a stop to the practice. He disagreed with a scheme proposed by Mr. Untermyer that would force brokers to mark on 'loan envelopes' containing their collateral the amount for which they were already held as security by the broker, that the bank might make its loan to the broker on that basis.

This scheme, Mr. Sturgis contended, would entail an almost prohibitive amount of bookkeeping.

Can't Prevent Manipulation.

Mr. Sturgis, through a grilling, detailed examination, insisted that the stock exchange could not prevent manipulation of the market by pools and syndicates. He said they could not go behind a transaction to discover a buyer or seller's motives.

On this point Mr. Sturgis and counsel for the committee had a spirited argument.

"Is it legitimate for a member of the exchange to give an order to sell a certain amount of stock to one broker and an order to buy the same amount of the same stock to another broker?" asked Mr. Untermyer.

"So long as there is no collusion and the commissions are paid it's not illegitimate," said Mr. Sturgis.

"The important point is that the

Mme. D'Mille's Beauty Hints
(From The Journal of Fashion.)

To keep the skin clear, smooth, fair and white use a complexion beautifier made by dissolving a package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Gently massage face, neck and arms with this in the morning and it will hold all day. It prevents the growth of hair and will not rub off or show like powder, while it gives a lovely, soft and youthful complexion.

"For cold in the head or chest, there is nothing better than Mother's Salve. It is easy to use and quick to act. Catarrh is a beauty destroyer, and Mother's Salve will relieve catarrh if anything will.

"Dull and lifeless hair makes a woman look older than she should. Dry shampooing makes the hair bright, fluffy and clean. Put four ounces of orris root in a fruit jar and mix it well with an original package of therox. Sprinkle a little on the head once a week and brush out thoroughly. This treatment cleanses the scalp and makes the hair lustrous and wavy.

Superfluous hairs are humiliating and for those who desire a hair remover, delatone is suggested. Make a paste with a little delatone and water, cover the hairs; after a minute or two wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone. "This treatment is sure, safe and speedy."—(Advertisement.)

SMOKE INSPECTOR NOT APPOINTED

Board Defers Action to Fill Vacancy—$16,000 Asked for Next Year.

Atlanta's smoke violators will be at peace for a few days. After next Monday the city will be without a smoke inspector.

H. P. Ashley and J. J. Flynn, both of Atlanta, were the only "hope" to offer their services to the board for the job made vacant by the resignation of Inspector Paul McMichael. The $2,400 salary attached to the end of the smoke inspector's job did not tempt others, hence the board instead of finding itself deluged with applications, found a scarcity, and after a brief executive session, Chairman R. M. Harwell announced that the board decided to hold off the appointment until the next meeting.

The smoke board will ask that $16,000 be provided for in the January appportionment for operating the board. Out of the budget the board will authorize $900 to compensate an assistant smoke inspector who will be appointed to assist in making observations and taking care of the office routine. The board has practically purchased equipment at a cost of $1,700 to be used for testing gas.

Commissioner Renfroe informed the board that he conferred with Mayor-elect Woodward and learned that the new mayor favored the work of the board and was inclined to help it.

Commissioner Van Harlingen was appointed vice chairman of the board.

THEATERS

"Trail of the Lonesome Pine."
(At the Atlanta.)

Not in many seasons has a play excited more favorable comment than has "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which is at the Atlanta this week. The scenic splendor of the production, the truthfulness of the characterization and the finish of the players' work is remarkable. All Atlanta is showing interest because of the fact and the crowds are large at each performance. Tomorrow afternoon a matinee will be played with the last performance tomorrow night.

Paul Rainey Pictures.
(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now selling at the Atlanta for the return engagement of the wonderful pictures of Paul J. Rainey's African hunt. These pictures will be given all next week with matinees daily at 3 o'clock. They are pronounced the most wonderful ever staged and have created untold praise from all classes. Bankers, financiers and other notables are a unit in praising them. They open Monday afternoon.

Thomas E. Shea.
(At the Lyric.)

Thomas E. Shea will appear at the Lyric theater next week in three plays, "A Man and His Wife," "The Bells" and "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde." Mr Shea's opening play, "A Man and His Wife," is a great play of everyday life and includes several very tense scenes, especially that of the run on the bank, after which the relief of the home-coming to the quiet of the Maine woods, where the man and his wife are reunited.

"Madame Sherry."
(At the Lyric.)

"Madame Sherry," which has established the title of being the best and most diverting musical attraction that has been given the public in recent years, is drawing large audiences this week to the Lyric. The company has been well selected and from start to finish the piece is bright, snappy and pleasing.

Operatic Company.
(At the Tabernacle.)

The International Operatic company, which sang in concert last night at the Tabernacle as the sixth number on the Ankhart Lyceum course, scored success with a large and appreciative audience. Early in the evening the people began to gather and when the time for the opening number arrived almost every seat in the spacious auditorium had been taken.

The opening number, "Greeting to Spring," was so well rendered by the company that they were immediately introduced into the good-will of the audience, and encore after encore followed. The program included solos, duets, quartets and the entire second act of "Martha," which was splendidly interpreted and beautifully rendered by the quartet in full comtume.

The company is splendidly balanced with thoroughly trained and talented artists, of experience, and are fully capable of singing, not only in concert, but also the operas. Mrs. McKinnie, soprano, and Mr. McKenzie, baritone, were especialy strong in their work and were enthusiastically received.

Wanted for Wire Tapping.

New Orleans, December 12.—Charles J. Walker, who was arrested here last night as a suspicious character, was declared by the police today to be wanted in New York city in connection with a wire tapping swindle in which K. C. Sidbury and A. C. Towell, of Wilmington, N. C., were recently relieved of $25,000.

ROSSERS WIN IN SUIT FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

Verdicts of $750 each were given in the superior court yesterday in the damage suits of the late E. B. Rosser and Mrs. Rosser against Jacob H. Hirsch, whose automobile crashed into their surrey on Peachtree road last May.

The damage suits, each for $25,000, were filed in September shortly before the death of Judge Rosser whose condition was said to have been made much worse by the injuries and shock.

Judge Rosser and his wife were out riding in their surrey near Brookwood at the time of the accident and when the machine crashed into their vehicle from the rear they were both thrown to the ground and painfully injured.

The suit was filed by Stiles Hopkins and Rosser & Brandon. Judge Rosser was a cousin of Luther Z. Rosser, of the law firm of Rosser & Brandon.

Leland Hume Vice President.

Nashville, Tenn., December 12.—Following a meeting of the directors of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company here today, it was announced that Leland Hume, former general manager, had been elected vice president of the Cumberland and Southern Bell Telephone companies, with headquarters at Nashville. T. D. Webb was elected treasurer of the two companies. Nashville will be headquarters for a new division consisting of northern Alabama, Tennessee and southern and western Kentucky.

DECATUR ASKS FOR AID AS FIRE THREATENS CITY

The residence of Edward O. Miles in Decatur, was practicaly destroyed by fire yesterday morning and only after Decatur citizens had appealed to the Atlanta fire department were the flames, which were fanned by the high wind, kept from spreading to other houses.

Chief Cummings was notified of the fire and sent Captain Harrison from the Inman Park fire house on the 4-mile run to the county seat of DeKalb with Atlanta's only automobile fire wagon. They soon had the flames under control and saved the first floor from actual destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles and their children escaped without harm, but had not time to save any articles of furniture or clothing. The damage to the house and contents is estimated at $6,000. The family went to the home of Tom R. Miles on North avenue, where they spent the night.

Shriners Will Parade.

Members of the Yaraab temple, Imperial Order of the Mystic Shrine, will parade the streets of Atlanta this afternoon about 5 o'clock. The parade will form on East Cain street near Peachtree street, and will move toward the city with a large number of nobles. Al Silah temple, of Macon, will have a large delegation in line, while the Red Men's drum corps, the Yaraab novices, the camels, patrol and all the other features of the order will have prominent places.

ALLEN'S $5 Boots Are the Best Shoe Values in Atlanta

Specializing, as we do, on footwear for women and children only, we search the markets for the best manufacturers to supply our footwear in each grade. At $5.00 we find that we are selling more pairs of shoes than at any other one price, and naturally, we are striving to offer the largest choice and best values obtainable at that price.

We have no less than five separate and distinct makers whose boots we are retailing at $5.00 a pair. It must be a very unusual request that we cannot supply or difficult foot to fit that cannot find just the right style or size shoe in Allen's Special boot at $5.00.

Over 70 styles are here at $5.00—in velvet, satin, suede, patent gun metal, mattkid, tan and brown Russia calf, white buckskin. Every last imaginable from the low heel English to the high Cuban. Button, lace or combination boot pattern.

A pair of these would make someone a splendid present for Xmas.

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS

DIAMONDS. The care given to the selection of our Diamonds makes this the one house where anyone, however unfamiliar with diamond values, may purchase without risk.

Before we presume to show our gems they are subjected to the closest examination by our diamond expert, and the weight, grade and price is marked on each tag in plain figures.

Our mountings are selected with the same care and attention. In their selection we keep squarely before us three thoughts—durability, insuring against loss of the stones; beauty of construction, insuring the greatest value of the gems as ornaments; and price, which must be as low as possible, consistent with the best.

SIR THOMAS SEES BUSINESS ATLANTA

Famous Englishman Agrees "Atlanta Always Ahead"---Predicts Benefits From Canal.

Although he had invitations for social events given in his honor which might have taken up most of his time had he been so inclined, Sir Thomas Lipton yesterday spent a part of his second day in Atlanta quietly reading the papers, dictating letters and meeting a few friends at his suite of rooms at the Georgian Terrace.

Sir Thomas said he had not expected to find quite such cold weather in Atlanta, but, like the most of those who possessed overcoats and sufficient other wraps to ward off the chill, he said he relished the change in temperature, and felt sure that it is the very best sign that the approaching Christmas is near at hand. His Christmas will be spent aboard an ocean steamship bound for London.

"It seems to me that Atlanta is even ahead of several of the most progressive cities I have visited in the states during my trip," said Sir Thomas Thursday after he had been for a spin through the business part of the city with friends.

"I am glad to see that," he said, "for you know my greatest interest lies in the south and among the southern people, who were so kind to me when I first came to America. You have no idea how New Orleans has grown in the last few years. The old French town is now a great big metropolitan city, and the people there say it will rival Chicago when trade begins to come through the Panama canal.

"I have just read in the local papers of the Panama canal conference here in Atlanta. I am glad to see your business men taking an interest in that great project, and it seems to me that Atlanta might derive great benefits from the opening of the canal, even if the city is not on the gulf. Why, we expect great benefits commercially to come from the canal over in England, especially if satisfactory tolls are agreed upon."

Sir Thomas declined to enter into a discussion of the canal tolls, which just now is the cause of some controversy between the United States and his own country.

HON. R D. RENDER DIES AT HOME IN LAGRANGE

LaGrange, Ga., December 13.—(Special.)—All LaGrange was shocked today when it was learned that Hon. R. D. Render had died at 4 o'clock Thursday morning, his death coming after a very brief illness, though he had been in declining health for a number of years. Mr. Render was a brother of the president of the Bank of LaGrange and the bank was closed today on account of his death.

He came to LaGrange about five years ago from Meriwether county, where he was actively engaged in farming. He was president and organizer of the Greenville Banking company, from which office he resigned on account of failing health just previous to removing to LaGrange.

Mr. Render was a member of the constitutional convention of 1877 and a representative from Meriwether county in the state legislature for a number of years. In addition to his wife and brother here, he is survived by three sisters—Miss Sallie Render and Mrs. W. V. Gray, of LaGrange, and Mrs. S. J. Crowder, of Meriwether county. His wife, who survives him, was Miss Sallie White, of Whitehall, Ala. They had been married forty years and have no children. Mr. Render was the uncle of Hon W. A. Reeves, president of the Troup Cotton company, and the LaGrange Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Render left a fortune estimated at from $100,000 to $300,000, the bulk of which it is thought will go to his wife, and the balance to his nephews and nieces. The funeral will take place Friday, the details of which are to be announced later.

RAILROAD MEN ATTEND FUNERAL

Many Will Pay Last Tribute Today to Barbour Thompson.

Railroad men of Atlanta who had been intimately associated with the late J. S. Barbour Thompson left yesterday at noon for Richmond, Va., to attend his funeral, which will be held in the Virginia capital this morning.

J. L. Edwards, traffic manager of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic, who was formerly Mr. Thompson's chief clerk; E. T. Lamb, general manager of the same line, who was a division superintendent of the Southern railway when Mr. Thompson held an official position with that line, and W. N. Mitchell, of the Baltimore and Ohio, who was an intimate friend, were among those who left for the funeral.

The services will occur this morning at 11 o'clock from St. Paul's church, and the interment will follow at Hollywood cemetery.

Rev. James Minnergerode, a brother-in-law of Mr. Thompson, and rector of the Calvary Episcopal church, Louisville, Ky., will conduct the service, and will be assisted by Rev. Walter Russell Bowie, rector of St. Paul's.

HE PLUNGED 3,000 FEET, BUT WAS NOT KILLED

Edmonton, Alberta, December 12.—Charles Welcott, who fell 3,000 feet with a balloon in South America, seventeen years ago, died here today, after an illness of several months.

Wolcott held the distinction of being the only man, so far known, to recover from such a fall. During the multiple operations, which followed, it was necessary to lay bare his spinal cord for nine inches.

BOY KILLS HIS FATHER FOR WHIPPING BROTHER

Los Angeles, Calif., December 13.—Daniel H. Rickert today was shot and killed by Martin, his 13-year-old son, while the father was whipping an older son.

The boy confessed, saying his father had been brutal to his mother. The shooting, he said, followed a family quarrel in which the mother had taken the boy's part when the father sought to chastise them for not having obeyed orders to bring in firewood.

COUNTY SALARY LAW IS CONSTITUTIONAL

Mandamus Granted Against Three County Officials, Who Will Appeal Case.

The recent act of the legislature changing Fulton county officials from a fee to a salary system was declared constitutional and valid yesterday by Judge John T. Pendleton, of the civil division of the superior court, before whom the three county officials opposing the law have been fighting it. The case will be appealed at once to the supreme court for final decision.

Judge Pendleton declared from the bench that he did not favor the law, but believed that it was constitutional, and hence felt constrained to grant the mandamus absolute asked by the county commissioners to compel the tax collector, tax receiver and ordinary to file estimates of their expenses and comply with the law, placing their offices on the salary system.

The formal order of the court is due to be signed today by Judge Pendleton and a request for a supersedeas to appeal the cases to the supreme court will be asked as soon as that is done. As the cases are in the nature of urgent ones it is believed that ten days will be granted for an appeal, and the matter will probably be taken up by the higher court within a very short time.

In giving his decision Judge Pendleton said that the question hinged on whether or not the act was a general or a specific one, and said that although at present it referred only to Fulton county, that in the future when other counties had a population of over 100,000 that it would equally apply to them. He also stated had he been in the legislature when the act came up he would have voted against it.

The three officials, Tax Collector A. P. Stewart, Tax Receiver T. M. Armistead and Ordinary John R. Wilkinson, employed J. D Kilpatrick to fight the mandamus cases against them and the case occupied nearly two days before it was decided.

Luther Z. Rosser, county attorney, represented the county commissioners and was aided by Attorney Hooper Alexander, employed by private individuals who have favored the bill.

WIND-FANNED FLAMES THREATEN FT. SCREVEN

Savannah, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Fire threatened to wipe out a large part of the reservation at Fort Screven, on Tybee island, today when a high northwest wind carried the flames from one of the burning buildings.

The flames were heroically fought by the band and the few other men at the post, and finally gotten under control. All of the commands have been in and about Savannah on maneuver work for two weeks.

The fire started in the house occupied by Captain Ben Nettle, of the government steamer General Jackson, originating in the kitchen. It burned rapidly and spread to the other portion of the house occupied by some of the men connected with the electrical work at the fort and greatly damaged both buildings.

Killed Playing Cowboy.

Fort Smith, Ark., December 12.—Robert Wisely, 8 years old, was killed here today, while playing "cowboy" with companions. Wiseley was lassoed by another boy who was riding a pony. The tightening of the noose caused the saddle to slip, throwing the rider. The pony ran away dragging young Wisely half a mile.

HURT IS FIGHTING IVY ST. SALOONS

Property Owners Petition Police Committee to Prohibit Saloons.

Joel Hurt, promoter of Edgewood avenue's $2,000,000 building project, started a fight before the police committee of council against Ivy street near beer saloons yesterday afternoon. For more than an hour he opposed the particular saloon of James Lynch, and produced a petition signed by other property owners protesting against the saloons now in operation and others that have applications for permits before the committee.

The principal contention against the saloons was that they diminish the value of property in the neighborhood. He declared that $1,000,000 was being spent in the neighborhood of Edgewood avenue and Ivy street, and that the city and property owners were planning the expenditure of thousands more to give Ivy a proper grade, and for that reason alone the city should use care to prevent objectionable places being established there.

The committee took the application and protest under consideration, and will act on them at the meeting next Monday afternoon.

Make Ready the Christmas Table

Make it ready with Chamberlin-Johnson-DuBose linens---they are genuine! and for the Christmas board nothing else will do.

Not only are they genuine--pure flax--but there are enough here and in such a diversity that we can meet all requirements with what we have good reason to believe is absolutely best value at every price.

However, you are to be the judge of that, and we gladly rest our case with you.

And for those who will give linens this year we have done more than usual in gathering beautiful sets, separate cloths, embroidered towels, pillow cases and sheets.

See these tomorrow--

KEEP CHILDREN OFF THE STREETS.

The recent distressing tragedy in which a little girl was run down and killed by an automobile truck on one of the city's streets is only one of several similar accidents that have happened to children within the past few weeks.

Irrespective of blame in the specific instance, the moral is unmistakable: And it runs to the effect that parents should exercise unusual vigilance if they would contribute their share toward averting repetitions of these heart-sickening events.

In the past The Constitution has not hesitated in the case of casualty to children or adults to place responsibility upon reckless chauffeurs, where the latter were at fault.

It is not, however, to be expected that even the most careful driver of a vehicle of any description can, without the co-operation of others who use the streets, minimize the list of accidents.

The statement holds with redoubled force in a city the size of Atlanta, with thoroughfares narrow at the best and congestion on the constant increase.

Young children are, of course, compelled to cross and use city streets. But it should be a part of the home-training that they be instructed to do so with the utmost care and watchfulness.

Morning, noon and night, the lesson not to employ public thoroughfares as playgrounds and to avoid traffic-glutted places, ought to be persistently drilled into their receptive minds.

The utmost precaution will fail to entirely eliminate disaster. To an extent, the latter is an inevitable outcome of the strenuous conditions of metropolitan life. But the number of accidents can be reduced materially, and especially with regard to almost helpless little children, if parents frankly recognize the perils to which they are exposed and exercise authority and intelligence accordingly.

MERCHANT MARINE WITHOUT SUBSIDY.

Delegates to the Panama canal conference, just adjourned, are to be congratulated for their course in refusing to indorse the subsidy method for the rehabilitation of the American merchant marine. We are on the threshold of a new national administration, the party sponsor of which is irrevocably committed against governmental policies of which subsidies, subventions or exaggerated protection are a part. It would have been unfortunate, to put it mildly, had the first conference of southern business men upon the Panama canal outlook gone on record as in favor of a principle unmistakably frowned upon by the nation as a whole.

Arguments on the floor of the conference to the effect that an adequate American merchant marine is an indispensable corollary to securing the proper dividends from the canal are based on sound logic. The Constitution has often advanced the same contention. But we do not believe that the object is to be attained, at least with justice to the entire nation, by the plan of subsidies.

The democrats in congress last year pointed the way when they inaugurated a movement to admit to American register foreign-built native-owned vessels under certain conditions. If that plan is materialized under the Wilson administration, the problem of creating a merchant marine will speedily be solved, and at that without invoking the artificial aid of subsidies. The reduction of the tariff on materials used in shipbuilding will also work toward the same end, nor will it be accompanied by lowered wages, the stand-pat republican bogie with which to defend pre latory schedules.

In this connection it is a matter for renewed gratification that congress under the new administration is so soon to meet in extra session. Simply from a selfish standpoint, one of the first essentials to profitable use of the canal is an abundance of American-owned vessels. And as the canal is entering upon the final stages of its construction, the quicker we take measure looking toward making such fleets available, the better for the nation and its business.

J. S. BARBOUR THOMPSON.

While it was not unexpected, the death of J. S. Barbour Thompson will inflict a sense of personal loss upon hundreds of the most prominent residents of Atlanta and of Georgia. A host of friends and acquaintances throughout the south will, also, feel keenly the passing of his genial and lovable personality, so long identified with the large and important business affairs of the southern states.

A born executive, diplomatist and organizer, Mr. Thompson was, for the greater part of his active career, associated with the progress and upbuilding of southern railroad industries. Of quick and comprehensive mind and magnetic individuality, he was undoubtedly one of the figures that stood out conspicuously in the rehabilitation and modernizing of the south's transportation facilities during the past twenty years.

On the social side, he was universally respected and esteemed. He possessed in a remarkable degree the faculties of personal charm and of making friendships. His optimism was contagious and his good nature and energy an inspiration to those with whom he was brought into contact. Blending courtesy and graciousness with mental ability of a high order, he embodied signally the business man and gentleman of the type instrumental in the building of the new south.

'FRISCO AND THE LIBERTY BELL.

Shall the liberty bell, now jealously guarded in Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, be sent from that city to the San Francisco Panama exposition in 1915? That question is probably agitating the citizens of the two big municipalities at the opposite ends of the continent more keenly than speculations as to what congress will do with the tariff, the age of Ann, or any other actual or hypothetical issue.

The people of San Francisco, arguing that the bell has heretofore been a regular feature at the expositions sanctioned by the federal government, believe the display to be held on the Pacific coast should be no exception. They hold that since their exposition marks a wonderful epoch in the history of the nation and the world, reasons for the bell's presence there are intensified.

On the other hand, answer Philadelphians—and the inhabitants of the Quaker City have constituted themselves in a way special custodians of the sacred relic—the bell that proclaimed freedom in America is too precious to be intrusted to such a long railway journey, adding that expert metallurgists have pronounced this special risk to be a grave one.

The distinterested mind will find sympathy for both contentions. It is natural that San Francisco, staging a mammoth display that is to celebrate the opening of the Panama canal before the world and that is also to show to civilization her own marvelous rehabilitation, should wish to have the event made complete by a symbol that will recall to the visiting multitudes the humble but dramatic birth of earth's greatest republic. It is no less natural that Philadelphia, which has come to evolve an unusual sense of proprietorship in the bell, should wish to guard it against disaster.

It should not, in the meantime, be forgotten that the object of this strife is the property of the whole American people; and that the traditions clustering around it are among the most solemn which we hand down to the generations. If unbiased authorities decide that the bell is equal to the trip, the plea of San Francisco should draw favorable attention. Sentiment of the clean, sane sort is one of the mainstays of patriotism. And sentiment is the deciding issue in the dispute now proceeding about the bell.

"Just From Georgia"

In Time of Cold.

When the cold days come and you're feelin' sorter blue
Just think of what the summer, with its fire, did to you;
How you wished for blustering winter and the fallin' of the snow—
For all the breezy blizzards around the world to blow!

In the spring the birds were singing—
Summer was a dream.
But—"Oh, to meet the blizzard,
And hear the cold winds scream!"

When the cold days come and you shiver on the way
It's "Heaven send the beauty of a blazin' summer day!
Let the hot sun wilt the corn blades and burn the big world dry,
Till the white heat, like a furnace, cracks the corners of the sky!"

And yet, when summer gardens
Gave the rose a crimson gleam
'Twas "Oh, to meet the blizzard
And hear the cold winds scream!"

Agent of Santa Claus.

Santa Claus—he comes along, still in the old-time way;
He has his reindeer harnessed, his toys in a sleigh;
But he would never—never get the country round about
If Uncle Sam's fine fellows didn't rise and help him out.

Nuggest From Georgia.

Nothing like hoping you'll get to the brighter side when the world turns 'round.

It's well that life hasn't many holidays. It's mighty hard to pull through the few that come to us.

Happiness is just in thinking that the world's all right and doing your best to dance Trouble out of the settlement.

There will be no fault to find with the winters of the world if you just keep the springtime singing in your soul.

A Song of Sunshine.

I.

Just a shaft o' sunshine
And all the world is bright;
Heaven's comin' down to earth
And you are lost in light

II.

The hills, they clap their hands for joy,
And where the valley shines
You listen to the honey-bees
'Mid honeysuckle vines.

III.

Just a shaft o' sunshine,
But all the glad world knows
The pathway to the lily,
The realm where reigns the rose.

The Children's Answer.

This pathetic rhyme of the poor Christmas children is by the Bentztown Bard:

"Lord, the little children answer
At the mill door every day,
But the road you built them leadeth
Unto laughter and to play—
Show us our mistake, Oh, Master,
That hath turned them from the way!"

CLUB INDICTMENTS WILL COME TO TRIAL

Indictments against a number of locker clubs, which were returned last May by the grand jury, of which Thomas K. Glenn was foreman, are expected to come to trial this week before Judge Andrew E. Calhoun, of the city criminal court. The cases were transferred from the superior court to the city court, as the indictments returned charged misdemeanors.

Hackman Nearly Murdered.

Valdosta, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Mose Williams, a well-known hack driver, has had all sorts of passengers in his many years as hackman in this city, but he got hold of the worst one in his experience in his carriage last night. The unknown man engaged Williams to drive out to the home of a negro preacher near Bray's mill, a mile from the city. When the house was reached the passenger remarked: "We got here safe, didn't we," and rising from the seat as if to step out of the carriage, threw his arm around the hackman's neck and plunged a knife into his throat. Williams grabbed the knife and wrenched it from his assailant, but in doing so cut his own hand. The passenger then leaped from the carriage and disappeared in the darkness.

THOMAS NALL FOUND DEAD AT HIS HOME

Griffin, Ga., December 12.—(Special.) Thomas Nall, pioneer citizen of Griffin, and one of the best known men in middle Georgia, was found dead in his room at his residence on South Hill street yesterday morning. Mr. Nall was born in Forsyth, Ga., seventy-three years ago, and had been a resident of Griffin for seventy-two years, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Nall, moving to this city when he was an infant one year of age. He had held the position of clerk and treasurer of the city of Griffin for thirty years, and on Tuesday night, just a few hours before his death, was sworn in for another terms of two years at the first meeting of the new city council. He was prominent in fraternal orders, being a member of the Masonic, Elks, Knights of Pythias and Junior Order lodges of this city. He was a confederate veteran, having served through the civil war in the Griffin Light Guards, in which company he was second lieutenant, and rendered valiant services.

Mr. Nall was married thirty-seven years ago to Miss Bertha Rockwell, who died in this city several years ago. Surviving him are three daughters and one son—Miss Corinne Nall, of Washington, D. C.; Miss Rebecca Nall, of this city; Rockwell Nall, of Castlerock, Ore., and Mrs. A. E. Greville, of Griffin.

The funeral services will be held Friday morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. George's Episcopal church, of which the deceased was a member.

NEW OFFICIALS TAKE REINS IN STATESBORO

Statesboro, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—S. J. Crouch, mayor, and R. F. Donaldson, S. C. Groover, W. T. Smith, Glenn Bland and L. W. Williams, councilmen, took the reins of Statesboro last night when the old mayor and council turned the city's affairs over to them. The head of each committee on the old council explained his duties for the benefit of the new members, after which the retiring mayor, in a few well-selected words offered the new council every assistance of the retiring officers.

There has been a fight on for chief of police, but this office was not filled last night. In addition to the chief of police there are three policemen. Only one was re-elected last night, Edward Stone. Fred Gould succeeds Mr. Foots as superintendent of the light and water plant, and some change was made in the board of education. Colonel Greene S. Johnson and W. H. Ellis filling the places of J. E. McCroan and Colonel R. Lee Moore. City Recorder W. B. Johnson was retained with an increase in salary.

MISAPPROPRIATED FUNDS OF MEIGS POSTOFFICE

Valdosta, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Raymond V. Howze pleaded guilty in the United States district court to misappropriating funds of the postoffice at Meigs, Ga., and was sentenced by Judge Speer to two years' imprisonment in the federal prison at Atlanta.

There are quite a number of cases in the court against alleged illicit distillers. Heck Petty, J. B. Crews and Noah Davidson, all of Charlton county, who had been in charge of the United States deputy marshal, charged with making whisky, were given their liberty by Judge Speer on a pledge of their good behavior in future. Joe Worley, of Decatur county, pleaded guilty to illicit distilling and will be sentenced later.

WON'T MIND WEATHER FOR WIND WON'T BLOW

Today will be colder than yesterday, according to the weather man; but there will be no wind blowing, and the temperature will not feel as low as it did Thursday, when the mean temperature for the day was 32 degrees.

It is also due to be somewhat warmer this afternoon than earlier in the day. The mean temperature of Thursday, which was at freezing, sounds mighty cold but, according to the weather statistics, it was nothing compared to some days we have had. For instance, on February 13, 1899, the mean temperature was zero degrees. On that day the mercury never got above 8 degrees, and its lowest point was 8 degrees below the zero line.

BRYANT SEEKS WITNESS OF HIS INJURY BY CAR

L. Bryant, of Hapeville, is anxious to get into communication with any person who witnessed the accident in front of The Constitution building on the night of December 20, 1911, when he was knocked down and seriously injured by an Orme street car.

Mr. Bryant has been unable to secure a settlement of any kind from the street car company, and states that they have even refused to pay the physician's bill. He has been in a serious condition for some time, but is now slightly better.

The accident occurred about 10 o'clock. Friends in Hapeville are assisting Mr. Bryant to get in communication with those who witnessed the accident.

BIBB COUNTY GRAND JURY APPLAUDS RODDENBERY

Macon, Ga., December 12.—(Special.) The Bibb county grand jury thinks Congressman Roddenbery has "hit the bull's eye" in his fight to forever prevent marriage of negroes and whites in this country.

In executive session today the jury drew up and sent to Mr. Roddenbery the following telegram:

"Bibb county grand jury, now in session, approves your measure to bring about such legislation as will prevent mixed marriages in this country, and further approves your remarks on the subject, both in the halls of congress and those attributed to you in Chicago; also your tribute to the good feeling that exists between the blacks and the whites in the south."

FATHER R. F. KENNEDY ORDAINED 25 YEARS AGO

Invitations have been issued for the celebration on December 17 of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the ordination of the Rev. Robert F. Kennedy to the priesthood of the Roman Catholic church. Appropriate exercises will be held at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, of which Father Kennedy is the priest.

Beginning at 9:30 o'clock in the morning a solemn high mass will start the observance of the occasion. Father Kennedy has been the recipient of many congratulations already on the fact that within five days he will have been in the service of his church for a quarter of a century.

SPIRITED FIGHT BEING MADE FOR PURCHASE OF MONTICELLO

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington December 12.—(Special.)—One of the most spirited contests conducted in congress in a long time revolves around Mrs. Martin Littleton, the charming wife of the representative from the first New York district, and her scheme to have the federal government purchase Monticello, the old home of Thomas Jefferson.

What makes the scrap particularly interesting, aside from the national support it has received, is the fact that the property is now owned by Representative Jefferson M. Levy, of New York, a millionaire member of the present house.

The New York delegation have taken sides in favor of Mr. Levy, who doesn't have to sell, and announces with considerable emphasis that he won't sell. He estimates that the property is worth $1,500,000.

A few days ago, following her first defeat in the house when that body rejected a proposal of Representative Henry, of Texas, one of Mrs. Littleton's warm supporters in the movement, to make the Monticello resolution privileged, Mrs. Littleton announced that a Virginian who, however, did not want his name used, was willing to pay four times the assessed valuation of Monticello that it might be turned over to the government. Whether the unknown benefactor was Thomas F. Ryan, of Virginia and New York, Mrs. Littleton would not say.

Shrine for Nation.

Her object in securing Monticello is to make it one of the nation's shrines, where all Americans and foreigners would feel free to go as they now go to Mount Vernon and see the house where the author of the federal constitution lived and the tomb where his body lies.

This is one of the sacred spots of America and should not remain in private hands, even if the tomb and property were adequately kept up, says the plucky little New York woman. To restore it as far as possible to its original condition and keep up the property and the tomb in a neat and attractive way as befits its associations, is her idea. She thinks it an inappropriate place for hunting parties and the scenes of revelry, which the present owner, who is a bachelor and possessed of both great wealth and good taste, provides for the entertainment of his guests.

In her arguments before committees of both houses in which she made a fine impression, Mrs. Littleton said the property was not adequately kept up, the walks and drives were bad and condition of Jefferson's grave was "shameful." Visitors were only allowed to remain twenty minutes, and their approach was signaled by a bell as a warning to the guards to keep the visitors under espionage. Only by a special permit could one go near the house.

Monticello should be acquired by the government that it might at all times be open to the American public who revered the memory of Thomas Jefferson, she thinks.

While Representative Levy takes issue with Mrs. Littleton as to the condition of the estate, he admits that the grave has not received the attention it should. This task has been left to the Randolph family, he said, they claiming it as their right. Nevertheless since becoming the owner of Monticello he has frequently contributed to its up-keep.

Commodore Levy Bought Place.

Commodore Levy, an ancestor of the present navy and the man who abolished flogging in the navy, acquired the property from one who had intended to destroy every vestige of the home of Jefferson, whom he hated, said Mr. Levy. On learning of this intention he conferred with President Andrew Jackson and the latter urged him to make the purchase.

While Commodore Levy only purchased 218 acres and the beautiful home, Representative Levy has added to it, until the estate now embraces 1,000 acres. He is very proud of Monticello, and says that recently the architects who were making designs for extensive improvements in the white house visited Monticello to get ideas. He says he has spent large sums on the place and that there is no house anywhere better kept up. He says he will never part with the property.

Mrs. Littleton appears not a bit abashed by her initial defeat in the house. The resolution for an inquiry into the wisdom and cost of purchasing the property has already passed the senate, and she is confident of final success in the house.

During the campaign she has waged many whole pages of advertising matter have appeared in all the Washington papers, and members of congress have been bombarded by letters and petitions from individuals, patriotic societies and other bodies in all parts of the country.

President Taft Gets Panama Cane.

President Taft has received an interesting souvenir from Panama. It is a cane of extremely hard wood, beautifully polished, and was made from a log found 56 feet below sea level in making the excavations for the locks of Gatun dam. It was presented by Colonel William L. Seibert, engineer in charge of the Atlantic division of the works. A similar cane was presented by Colonel Seibert to Representative William C. Adamson, of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate commerce.

Ate Dinner With Jackson.

There is today living in Haymarket, Va., at the age of 89, probably the only man yet alive who dined with President Jackson seventy-five years ago in the white house.

In a letter written to President Taft a few days ago he said:

"I am 89 years old and hearty and hale. Yesterday I shot a partridge on the wing and today I write this letter without glasses."

One Way to Check Homicides.

One province in Canada has found a way by law to further prevent homicides, in which particular branch of crime the United States leads the civilized world.

John E. Jones, our consul general at Winnipeg, Manitoba, tells how it was done. He writes:

"At the last session of the Manitoba legislature an act was passed prohibiting the sale of offensive weapons except under certain conditions. The result of the passage of this act has been to affect materially the sale of revolvers, pistols, air guns and various forms of knives, for while the law has not yet gone into effect, dealers generally are careful about putting in a stock of such goods."

CANAL CONFERENCE RESULTED IN MUCH PERMANENT GOOD

Five salient facts stand out conspicuously in the summing up of what the Southern Panama Canal conference accomplished at its maiden session at Atlanta, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week.

First, the conference crystallized and gave formal expression to the south's strong sentiment in favor of national legislation designed to accomplish the rehabilitation of the American merchant marine. The conference adopted a vigorously worded resolution to this effect, taking care, however, to steer clear of the ship subsidy question, on which the conference was sharply divided. The resolution will be used as a memorial for the president of the United States and to congress, and the executive committee of the conference is instructed to use all proper means to see that the intent of the resolutions is put into effect by congress.

Conference Organization Is Permanent.

Second, the permanent organization of the Panama canal conference was effected, officers elected, an executive committee appointed and a movement put under way to get the permanent and active co-operation of commercial organizations in all the southern and gulf states. The officers elected were: President, Wilmer L. Moore, Atlanta; executive committeemen, John W. Porch, for Louisiana; John W. Sibley, Alabama; Wilson G. Harvey, South Carolina; F. D. M. Strachan, of Brunswick, for Georgia; Henry F. Baker, Maryland; G. L. Swiggert, Tennessee; E. M. Jole, North Carolina, and E. O. Painter, Florida.

Third, by the election of Wilmer L. Moore, president of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, as president of the Panama canal conference, Atlanta was made the center of the whole movement, and the mainspring from which the future development of the whole south in connection with canal commerce will operate. The Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, through its officers, particularly Chairman St. Elmo Massengale, of the foreign trade committee, and Secretary Walter G. Cooper, took an active and leading part in the arrangements for the initial conference and the subsequent steps to make it a permanent organization.

Fourth, it was announced to the world, through President T. M. Emerson, of the Atlantic Coast Line, that the railroads of the south were ready for the opening of the canal, provided the commercial bodies and manufacturers would build up the trade for them to handle.

Many Prominent Men Interested.

Fifth, the conference brought together in Atlanta several score of the leading railroad and steamship line presidents, cotton mill men, manufacturers and bankers interested in export trade, who exchanged ideas, agreed to collaborate for the future and established mutual relations that will enable the south to carry out a concerted plan of action looking to a full realization by this section of the benefits that will accrue from the opening of the new waterway.

The visiting transportation officials, manufacturers and business men from all parts of the south, expressed before leaving the city their eloquent appreciation of the work done for the movement by the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and the splendid hospitality which had been accorded them while in attendance on the conference.

REQUIRE PERMITS FOR PISTOL SALE IS URGED

At a meeting yesterday afternoon of the public safety committee of the Atlanta chamber of commerce it was decided to make formal request of the legislature for the enactment of and amendment to the present law with regard to pistols and pistol cartridges which would require every person desiring to purchase a pistol or pistol cartridges to first obtain a permit from either the ordinary, the sheriff or the solicitor general, and would make it a misdemeanor for any dealer to sell any person a pistol unless he presents such a permit.

The matter of a safety station at Five Points for taking on and letting off street car passengers was discussed and referred to a subcommittee.

Chairman William J. Lowenstein presided at the meeting. Other members of the committee are Ben Lee Crew, W. Woods White, Edwin R. Haas and Porter Langston.

ELKS OF AMERICUS PURCHASE FINE HOME

Americus, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—The American lodge of Elks have effected the purchase of the former Thornton Wheatley residence, a fine ante-bellum home, which will be converted into a commodious club house by the lodge.

Ten thousand dollars was the consideration reported, the purchase to be formally confirmed by the lodge.

C. W. M'CLURE HEADS SOUTHERN BULL MOOSES

At a caucus of the southern members who attended the recent meeting of the progressive party at Chicago C. W. McClure, of this city, was elected permanent chairman.

The southern division of the party is expected to work out problems which exist south of Mason and Dixon's line, and it is probable that a large conference will be held in Atlanta soon after the New Year to go further into the plans of the party.

Mr. McClure went from Chicago to Beaver, Pa., where he had some personal business to transact, and will arrive home Saturday, at which time he will have more definite plans to announce in connection with the work to be considered.

SUMTER JAIL IS UNSAFE; PRISONERS TO BE MOVED

Americus, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Prisoners confined in the Americus jail are to be transferred to prisons in neighboring counties for safekeeping owing to the unsafe condition of the local jail.

Such is the announcement made from the bench by Judge H. A. Littlejohn upon report of the sheriff that he could not safely confine prisoners in the present condition of the building, which is badly in need of repairs and from which seventeen negro prisoners escaped recently.

The county commissioners have been dilatory in affecting repairs and prisoners there are badly crowded in insecure quarters.

WOMAN SMUGGLER ROBS GOVERNMENT

As Agent for Dressmakers She Defrauds Treasury of a Million Dollars.

New York, December 12.—A smuggling conspiracy to which many large dressmaking establishments throughout the United States are parties and through which the United States treasury has been defrauded of $1,000,000 revenue was alleged by the federal authorities today when the first indictment in the case was obtained.

A middle-aged woman of refined foreign poise, proficient in five languages, was indicted on the specific charge of "facilitating the transportation of smuggled goods into this country" by way of Canada. Customs officials described her as the wife of George Haldorn, a lawyer with offices in New York, London and Paris, but said she had not been living with her husband for some time. When arrested at a fashionable house here today she was in possession of twenty-one gowns valued at $15,000, the finest, the officials said, that had been seized at this port in years.

Mrs. Haldorn, traveling, it is alleged, as Mrs. Amaldorn, Madame Haldan and Madame Hubert, had been followed by special agents of the treasury department since early last August when she left this port for Europe. She was traced to Rotterdam, Paris, London, Liverpool and to Canada, telling the Canadian and American customs officers at Quebec, it is said, that she was a foreigner on the way to the United States, and that her wealth of gowns was for her personal use, as became a woman of her station in life. As such a non-resident she was entitled to bring the gowns to the United States duty free. The government alleges, however, that the woman was one of several agents of large dressmaking establishments, employed to go abroad every season to purchase the most expensive and latest gowns, posing as wealthy foreigners when they arrive in this country.

Mrs. Haldorn was held by United States Commissioner Shields in $2,000 bail.

HARROWING DETAILS RELATED BY KOSLANS

Seoul, Korea, December 12.—Harrowing details of their treatment by the police were told by defendants examined today in the trial of the 106 Koreans charged with conspiracy against Count Terauchei, Japanese governor general of Korea. The prisoners have now outlined almost every torture conceivable, many of which are unspeakable and increditable.

The chief judge tells each prisoner to relate his story of the alleged tortures, and gives all of them the widest latitude.

The prisoners assert that the police endeavored especially to secure the incrimination of foreigners. One man who was educated in America and who returned to Korea in 1908, today dwelt on this feature.

Many of the prisoners have named witnesses to prove an alibi.

TWO DIVORCES AT ONCE ASKED BY THIS WOMAN

Chicago, December 12.—If two divorces for which she has applied are granted her by Judge Tuthill on Saturday, Mrs. Ida Hentz Downey-Klatt will have created a record for divorces in the Chicago courts, as there has never been another instance where two decrees were granted to one person on the same day. The woman's first husband was William Lafe Downey. There was a separation after eleven days, and she says that she understood later that he had obtained a divorce. Then she married Emil Klatt, with whom she lived for five years.

Suit was brought against Klatt about the same time the complainant learned that she had never been legally separated from Downey. She asked the court to give her the two decrees at once to "save time."

HUNTER ACCIDENTALLY SHOOTS COMPANION

Perry, Ga., December 12.—(Special.) Whet W. A. Strether and H. A. Ragan fired into a covey of quail from opposite sides today, the charge from Strether's gun took effect in the head and hand of Ragan. Ragan was rushed to town, where a physician dressed his wounds which are not thought to be serious. The two hunters had been members of a party that had been camping during the past week in Ocmulgee swamp.

PALMER STARTS ANANIAS CLUB

Congressman Calls Farr Liar During Election Contest. Bowman Unseated.

Washington, December 12.—Representative Charles C. Bowman, of the Eleventh Pennsylvania district, was unseated by the house today, by the passage, 158 to 118, of a resolution declaring that corrupt practices had been used in his election in 1910. At the same time the house refused, 181 to 88 to seat George R. McLean, his democratic opponent. It was charged on the floor that he had been guilty of the same practices as were alleged against Bowman. The seat from the Eleventh district will be vacant until March 4, when it will be filled by John J. Casey, a democrat, elected in November.

The fight over the case on the floor was enlivened by a bitter passage between Representative A. Mitchell Palmer and John R. Farr, both of Pennsylvania. Mr. Palmer had referred to the charge that the influence of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad had been used for Bowman.

"The gentleman must not forget the efforts which that corporation, through its officials, made for him at his solicitation," observed Mr. Farr, as he mentioned that Mr. Palmer was a local attorney for the railroad in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Palmer replied that he was a local counsel for the Lackawanna, but declared that any statement that he had ever solicited the aid of any corporation for himself or any one else was a 'wilful, deliberate and malicious falsehood." He demanded that Farr either apologize or prove his charge to the house.

The incident ended by Representative Heflin, making a point of order, and "Uncle Joe" Cannon counselling Representative Farr to "sit down."

$278,489,781 WANTED FOR POSTAL SERVICE

Washington, December 12.—The postoffice appropriation bill, aggregating $278,489,781, including $750,000 for parcels post equipment and $25,000 for the parcels post commission, was reported to the house today. The total is a decrease of $3,301,727 from last year's esimates.

The postoffice department submitted increased estimates, partly attributable to the expenses of the parcels post and to the postal savings bank. The estimate was reduced by the committee on the ground that the estimates as to those projects are largely speculative at this time.

Despite the postmaster general's report of a small surplus for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, the postoffice committee reported that there was a deficiency of about $626,000 instead of a surplus of $219,000 for that year. Similarity, according to the committee, the accounts chargeable to this year may make a change in the postmaster general's audited deficit of $1,785,523 for the fiscal year.

DRIVER AT ATHENS MEET IS FOUND DEAD IN TENT

Athens, Ga., December 12.—(Special.) A. L. Dean, a horseman from Augusta, who drove in one of the races here this afternoon at the old fair grounds track in a meet of some thirty horses this week, was found dead tonight in the tent where he had been camping since Sunday at the race course.

He was advanced in years. Heart failure is suposed to have been the cause of his death. He was carded for two races tomorrow.

LURED GIRL INTO MINE AND SHOT HER TO DEATH

Palouse, Wash., December 12.—Luring his sweetheart, Miss Jennie Liner, 18 years old, into the depths of a mine near Harvard, Idaho, Jesse Dillman shot and killed her, and fatally wounded himself late last night, according to messages which reached here today. Men entered the mine to investigate the cause of the two shots they had heard, but Dillman opened fire on them and drove them out.

Dillman crawled to the mouth of the tunnel today and surrendered, allowing the miners to bring Miss Liner's body to the surface.

$1,000 FIRST PRIZE.

RYAN'S EVIDENCE CENSURED BY JUDGE

Court Objected to Labor Leader's Characterization of the Erectors' Association.

Indianapolis, Ind., December 12.—For asserting that " virulent attacks" were made on him by contractors who employed non-union workmen, Frank M. Ryan, president of the Iron Workers International union, was censured by the court at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today, as giving "irresponsive" answers.

Ryan, the most prominent of the forty-one defendants, was asked what he meant by comments he made on an invitation he received to visit William T. Jerome, then district attorney of New York. Ryan's comments were contained in a letter written in January, 1906, to John J. McNamara, secretary of the union. At that time, according to the government, Ryan was in New York directing the " dynamiting campaign."

Ryan identified a copy of a letter he received from Jerome, saying:

"I shall be glad to see you alone, or with your attorney, if you prefer."

In his letter to McNamara he said:

"Another surprise. I enclose a copy of Jerome's letter, with a suggestion that if I am prevented in any way from conducting the affairs of the association, you should advise the first vice president to take charge."

"What did you mean when you said: 'If I am prevented from conducting the affairs of the association?' asked District Attorney Miller.

"I meant just what it says," replied Ryan, who, although the district attorney objected, kept on talking.

"There has been virulent attacks published in New York and emanating from the National Erectors' association and a man named Donnelly had come from Albany to circulate a petition to have me impeached as president. I did not know what there was to it until I investigated Donnelly's end, and I wanted to be prepared for any emergency. That is all there is to it, except that I saw Jerome."

Objection was then made to Ryan's remarks. Federal Judge Anderson, turning to the witness, said:

"All this talk is irresponsive. This is the case of the United States government against these defendants, and not the Erectors' association. The government is behind the prosecution."

No further inquiries were made regarding Ryan's visit to Jerome. In his previous testimony Ryan said his visit was friendly, and he denied it had anything to do with violence in the conduct of the strike in New York.

Michael J. Hannon, Scranton, Pa., testified that "trimming" non-union iron workers meant "beating them up."

"Why was it you thought those open shops had no right to do their work the way they wanted?" the witness was asked.

"Because they employed men outside of the union. We wanted to bring the non-union men into the union."

"How did you want to bring them in—on a stretcher?"

"No, in a kindly way."

Paul J. Morrin, St. Louis, another defendant, testified concerning his activity as a business agent of a local union. He said he had not been in accord with the administration of the union, and attempted to appoint trustees for managing the finances of the international union. He denied knowing of the use of dynamite.

REGENT LUITPOLD CALLED BY DEATH

He Was 91 Years Old and Took Regency Owing to Insanity of the King.

Munich, December 12.—Luitpold, prince regent of Bavaria, died here today. He was 91 years old. The prince regent had been in failing health for several months and his death was not unexpected.

Prince Luitpold was the oldest ruling price in Europe in point of years, having been born on March 12, 1821. He was nine years older than the Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, who was born on August 18, 1830. The latter, however, has already occupied the throne for 64 years, as he became ruler at the age of 18, while Prince Luitpold had been regent since June 10, 1886.

Luitpold was 65 years of age and had lived a long and useful life as a German military leader when he was called upon in 1886 to take the throne of Bavaria, the second largest state in the German empire. His call to the regency was the result of the insanity of King Ludwig II. and his brother, King Otto.

He quickly won a firm place in the hearts of his people, who became accustomed soon to calling him "king," although this was not at all to the liking of the old-fashioned prince.

"No, I am not your king," he frequently remarked with a military man's gruff show of petulence. "I am only the regent." Like his friend, the emperor Francis Joseph, Luitpold cared not a fig for the frumperies of his high position. His mode of life was plain and simple. Hunting was a passion with the prince. He gave it every hour of his spare time, journeying all over his kingdom in search of various kinds of game.

As a sovereign, Luitpold did much to increase the prestige and prosperity o Bavaria. The royal income, which he might have received as king, he devoted to paying national debts and when urged later to take the crown and title, declared he was "too old to change."

It has been declared that his son Prince Louis would probably succeed him, in which case it is not unlikely that he will take up the title of king.

SIR THOMAS LIPTON IS DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED

The sunshine of yesterday made it possible for Sir Thomas Lipton to see Atlanta at her best and in the afternoon following luncheon at the club with Colonel Ragan, his host, and Colonel Neill, his guest, he enjoyed a drive through the city, and to the country clubs.

Last night Colonel Ragan gave a beautiful dinner at his residence on Peachtree street in honor of Sir Thomas Lipton, the guests invited at 8 o'clock, and included Mrs. Albert Thornton, Miss Margaret Hawkins, Miss Harriett Calhoun, Miss Martha Phinizy, Miss Anne Orme, Miss Passie May Ottley, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Esther Smith and Miss Helen Payne, Messrs James and Ralph Ragan, Colonel Neill, Messrs. Edward Alfriend, Joseph Brown Connally, Marion Smith, Walter Colquitt, Henry Newman.

The guests were received in the drawing room where there were beautiful decorations in American beauty roses, and in the library an orchestra presented a bright musical program.

The table decorations presented the unique scheme in flowers of "Cupid on Vacation." Killarney roses and narcissi were the flowers used. At each end of the table were baskets in gold holding Killarney roses showered with narcissi. Perched on the handle of the basket was Dan Cupid holding the reins which reached a heart of roses in the center of the table, the heart pierced half through with a little gold-tipped arrow. Cupid carried a small valise and bore a dangerous look in his eye.

The pink candle shades on the silver candle sticks were painted in a design of Cupids and the place cards were hand-painted in a design of Cupids and hearts.

At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Ragan proposed the following Irish toast to his distinguished guest:

"Come in the evening,
Or, come in the morning;
Come when you're sent for,
Or, come without warning—
A thousand welcomes you'll
Find here before you.
And the oftener you come
The more I'll adore you."

Sir Thomas responded to this toast most graciously and then proposed an eloquent toast to the ladies.

Sir Thomas Lipton is a delightful dinner guest. His stories of his travels, of the great people he knows, and his impressions of world topics make theme for interesting conversation, and at Governor Slaton's and Mr. Ragan's he proved an excellent raconteur. He will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Grant at dinner tonight.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jackson entertained forty guests delightfully last evening at their home on Peachtree street, the guests bidden at 8 o'clock. Their hospitable home had a decoration that brought the first suggestion of Yuletide in the potted poinsetta, their vivid red blooms showing high among the palms, and being evident in the drawing room, and the library adjoining. Red flowers prevailed everywhere except in the dining room where the decorative scheme was in white and gold. Supper was served buffet style, and the table from which the sweets were served had as central decoration, a tall vase filled with golden gate roses and valley lilies. Smaller vases held the same flowers, and candlesticks of white and gold Austrian glass had their shades of yellow and gold. Baskets of the same held crystalized fruits, and compotes in white and gold held yellow cakes and bonbons.

There was music by an orchestra and the occasion was a special compliment to the country neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Jackson from the Pace's Ferry and Peachtree road.

Mrs. Jackson was beautifully gowned in white lace over gold colored satin with a touch of black giving Frenchy finish.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will entertain the younger contingent in society at a dancing party during the holidays when their attractive young daughtter, Miss Eula Jackson, will be home from New York, where she is attending school.

Miss Cramer's Dance.

Miss Louise Cramer, the young daughter of Mrs. Ida Howell Cramer, will entertain her friends at a dancing party, the eveuing of December 23, at her home on Peachtree court. The afternoon of December 24 little Miss Cramer will entertain at an "Up-Jinks" party.

To Miss Winona Winter.

Mrs. Henry Bernard Scott will entertain forty young people at tea this afternoon at 5 o'clock in honor of Miss Winona Winter, the talented young southern actress who has been at the Grand this week. Miss Winter is of Alabama, and has been delightfully entertained during her visits in Alabama and Georgia.

Dinner-Dance at Driving Club.

The dinner-dance on Saturday evening at the Driving club promises to be a very enjoyable affair, a number of parties already having been arranged.

Mr. and Mrs. James H. Nunnally will entertain a large party for Mr. Hamilton Post, of Baltimore, president of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Castleman will entertain for Miss Willey Gayle, of Montgomery, the guest of Miss Sarah Cowles. Others entertaining will be Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Speer, Mr. Joseph B. Connally, Mr. Eugene V. Haynes, Dr. Joseph D. Osborne, Mr. Lewis Gregg and Mr. Robert Ryan.

Governor's Horse Guard to Entertain.

The Governor's Horse Guard, which is composed of over half a hundred young Atlantans, is planning for a big social night during the Christmas holidays.

At a meeting of the Horse Guard a committee consisting of Messrs. Todd, Sloan and Mixon, was appointed to investigate the feasibility of several proposed plans and to recommend one.

The committee will recommend that the night's entertainment shall begin with a theater party at the Grand, the entire Horse Guard to attend in full dress uniform, escorting lady friends, after which a supper will be served at the armory, followed by dancing.

Except on parade days the Governor's Horse Guard has not been seen in public in full dress uniform for many years, and the dazzling uniforms will be a great contrast to the usual dress.

No expense is being spared to make the night so enjoyable as to be long remembered.

Home for Incurables Gives Fair.

The Home for Incurables will hold a demonstration fair, showing all the products which are good for votes in The Constitution's contest, at the old Capital City club, on Friday, December 13, and Saturday, December 14. The home is fighting hard for this prize, and requests all ladies who are interested to attend this demonstration.

Mrs. Henderson Entertains.

Mrs. Clifford Henderson entertained at auction bridge yesterday afternoon at her home on North Boulevard in compliment to Miss Mary Jim Dunlap, a bride-elect, and for Mrs. Frank Jackoway, a recent bride.

Ferns and flowers decorated the house. The prizes were silk stockings and a jabot. Mrs. Jackoway was given silk stockings and Miss Dunlap was given a hand-embroidered handkerchief.

The guests included the members of Mrs. Henderson's bridge club, Miss Dunlap's bridesmaids and a few close friends of Mrs. Jackoway.

Dinner Party.

Quite an enjoyable affair of the week was the 6 o'clock dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Dodson at their lovely home, "Sunset."

Those invited were Misses Maude McKown, Carrie and Effie Farlow, Ophelia Camp, Bell Daniel, Bertha Wooster, Selah Marshbank, Mrs. Camp, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McKown, Messrs. Harry Farlow, Davis Camp, Lanier, Robert McKown and Dr. Allen.

Beautiful Luncheon for Mrs. Walter Taylor.

Mrs. Walter Taylor was the guest of honor at the beautiful luncheon given yesterday at the Piedmont Driving club by Mrs. Lewis Beck, when seventy-five ladies were most hospitably entertained. They were invited at 1 o'clock and received by Mrs. Beck and Mrs. Taylor in the living room, where the decorations were in pink roses and narcissi. The same decorative scheme prevailed in the dining room where the guests assembled for the elegant repast, which was served to the guests seated at small tables.

In the center of the room was a circular table artistically decorated, from which the almonds, cakes and bon-bons were served. In the center was a tall silver vase filled with the flowers. There were four silver candlesticks, their shades of pink, and the cakes were embossed in pink roses. The bonbons and ices were of the same color.

Assisting Mrs. Beck in entertaining were Mrs. Willis Westmoreland, Mrs. Peters, Mrs. Dargan, Mrs. J. Frank Meador and Mrs. T. D. Meador. The Spanish orchestra presented a bright musical program before and during luncheon.

Mrs. Beck wore an elegant toilet in black velvet, the skirt made walking length and the smart coat opening over a blouse of soft white satin and lace. Her black velvet hat was trimmed in paradise plumes. Mrs. Taylor wore black chiffon velvet, the corsage of black threaded in gold and trimmed in lace, her hat of black and whit, was trimmed in plumes.

Eggnog Party.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Speer have issued invitations to an eggnog party Christmas day from 11:30 until 2 o'clock.

MRS. BOOKER WASHINGTON SPEAKS HERE TONIGHT

Mrs. Booker T. Washington, wife of the distinguished Tuskegee educator, and president of the National Federation of Colored Women's Clubs, will lecture at the Atlanta Baptist college at 8 o'clock tonight. The lecture will be given under the auspices of the Neighborhood union, an organization of women of which Mrs. Lugenia Hope is president, which has been doing effective social settlement work among the negroes of Atlanta for several years. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. The proceeds will be devoted to the furtherance of the Neighborhood union work.

OFFICERS FOR YEAR CHOSEN BY ARCANUM

Officers for the ensuing year were elected last night by Atlanta council, No. 160, of the Royal Arcanum, at its meeting. The following were chosen: Delegates to the grand council, T. C. Tupper and J. F. Buchanan; alternates, J. C. Carlisle and August Denck; trustee, Dr. Joseph Jacobs; regent, P. H. Calhoun; vice regent, G. N. Watson; orator, John Cooper; secretary, J. F. Thibedeau; collector, D. M. Bain; treasurer, Amos Fox; chaplain, T. C. Tupper; guide, J. C. Carlisle; warden, A. E. McElroy, and sentry, E. Steinheimer.

LEVY WILL NOT SELL HOME OF JEFFERSON

Richmond, Va., December 12.—Refusing to sell Monticello, the home of Thomas Jefferson, to the buyer at a price of $750,000, who, through Mrs. Martin W. Littleton, offered to deed it to the state of Virginia, Jefferson M. Levy says tonight in a telegram to the governor:

"I cannot now commercialize the sentiment of years by putting a price upon this noble property. With my highest conception of patriotic feeling toward the name and home of Thomas Jefferson, in which I yield first place to no one, coupled with a deep affection for the place itself because of my long association, and in the full assurance that my care will continue to be both abundant and constant, I am not prepared to make or accept any offer depriving me of this cherished right."

Prince Not Incurably Ill.

Paris, December 13.—A semi-official note issued here declares unfounded the rumors that the Russian crown prince, Alexis, has been stricken with an incurable malady. It also denies that special dispositions have been taken relative to assuring the succession to the Russian throne.

Use Cottolene For Cooking!

It Cuts Down the Butter Bills

When you shorten or fry food with butter it is needless extravagance. Butter is too expensive for use anywhere but on your table. If butter were really better, would produce better results in cooking, you would be justified in using it, but it won't. Cottolene is fully the equal of butter for shortening; it is better for frying. It makes food rich, but not greasy, because it heats to a higher temperature than lard or butter and cooks so quickly that the fat has no chance to "soak in." Cottolene is more healthful than lard, and you need to use only two-thirds as much as you would of either butter or lard.

When you stop to consider that the price of Cottolene is no more than the price of lard, you can readily figure out what a saving its use in your kitchen means.

Don't be extravagant; don't use butter for cooking; it's too expensive and no better. Don't use lard; it's too uncertain, and greasy.

Do use Cottolene, and you will have better, more healthful food, and more money in your pocketbook.

Try this recipe:

GRIDDLE CAKES

1 cup sifted flour	½ teaspoon salt
1 egg	1 tablespoon melted Cottolene
½ teaspoon soda	1 teaspoon baking powder

Sift together, the flour, salt, soda, baking powder, add beaten egg and Cottolene. Beat well, cook on griddle greased slightly with Cottolene.

J. EARLE TAPPAN DIES; FORMERLY OF ATLANTA

J. Earle Tappan, auditor of the Knoxville Railway and Light company, and a former well-known civil engineer, of Atlanta, died yesterday afternoon in the east Tennessee city after a three weeks' illness, and his body will be brought to this city today for funeral at Patterson's chapel this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Tappan was about 35 years of age, and until he moved to Knoxville was one of Atlanta's best known young men. He took an active part in important construction work in and near the city. He was unmarried and is survived by his mother, Mrs. Willet Tappan, and one brother and one sister.

Mme. D'Mille's Beauty Hints

(From The Journal of Fashion.)

To keep the skin clear, smooth, fair and white use a complexion beautifier made by dissolving a package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel. Gently massage face, neck and arms with this in the morning and it will hold all day. It prevents the growth of hair and will not rub off or show like powder, while it gives a lovely, soft and youthful complexion.

"For cold in the head or chest, there is nothing better than Mother's Salve. It is easy to use and quick to act. Catarrh is a beauty destroyer, and Mother's Salve will relieve catarrh if anything will.

"Dull and lifeless hair makes a woman look older than she should. Dry shampooing makes the hair bright, fluffy and clean. Put four ounces of orris root in a fruit jar and mix it well with an original package of therox. Sprinkle a little on the head once a week and brush out thoroughly. This treatment cleanses the scalp and makes the hair lustrous and wavy.

Superfluous hairs are humiliating and for those who desire a hair remover, delatone is suggested. Make a paste with a little delatone and water, cover the hairs; after a minute or two wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone. This treatment is sure, safe and speedy."—(Advertisement.)

SMOKE INSPECTOR NOT APPOINTED

Board Defers Action to Fill Vacancy—$16,000 Asked for Next Year.

Atlanta's smoke violators will be at peace for a few days. After next Monday the city will be without a smoke inspector.

H. P. Ashley and J. J. Flynn, both of Atlanta, were the only "hope" to offer their services to the board for the job made vacant by the resignation of Inspector Paul McMichael. The $2,400 salary attached to the end of the smoke inspector's job did not tempt others, hence the board instead of finding itself deluged with applications, found a scarcity, and after a brief executive session, Chairman R. M. Harwell announced that the board decided to hold off the appointment until the next meeting.

The smoke board will ask that $16,000 be provided for in the January apportionment for operating the board. Out of the budget the board will authorize $900 to compensate an assistant smoke inspector who will be appointed to assist in making observations and taking care of the office routine. The board has practically purchased equipment at a cost of $1,700 to be used for testing gas.

Commissioner Renfroe informed the board that he conferred with Mayor-elect Woodward and learned that the new mayor favored the work of the board and was inclined to help it.

Commissioner Van Harlingen was appointed vice chairman of the board.

Bainbridge, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. John Toole died at her residence today after a lingering illness. She was about 43 years old and is survived by her husband, Dr. Toole, a son and daughter. The funeral will occur here tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Colesberry, Brunswick.

Brunswick, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Mrs. C. H. Colesberry, one of Brunswick's oldest and most estimable women, passed away last night in this city at the age of 74. Mrs. Colesberry came to Brunswick in 1860 from Philadelphia and was the widow of Captain S. C. Colesberry, commander of the old revenue cutter Nancy Mann, which served in south Atlantic service. Besides many other relatives, she is survived by six children—A. V. Wood, Misses Lula and Florrie Colesberry, of this city; Mrs. R. T. Hitch, of Waycross; Miss Nellie Colesberry, of Jacksonville, and W. B. Colesberry, of Tampa. The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from St. Mark's Episcopal church, and interment will be in Palmetto cemetery.

Patrick Hogan.

Patrick Hogan, aged 75 years, died at a private sanitarium Thursday morning at 4 o'clock. He is survived by three daughters and two sons, one daughter, Mrs. E. A. Massa, residing in Atlanta. The body was removed to P. J. Bloomfield's chapel and will be taken Friday to his former home, Cincinnati, Ohio, where the funeral and interment will be held.

C. E. Jones.

C. E. Jones, aged 23 years, died at a private sanitarium Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. He is survived by his wife and two children. The body was removed to P. J. Bloomfield's chapel and will be taken later to his former home, Suwanee, Ga., where the funeral and interment will be held.

Willie Hogan.

Willie Hogan, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hogan, who was burned to death Wednesday at the residence, 56 Mills street, was buried Thursday afternoon in Hollywood cemetery. Funeral services were held in Bloomfield's chapel at 3 o'clock, Rev. W. R. Hendrix officiating.

THEATERS

"Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

(At the Atlanta.)

Not in many seasons has a play excited more favorable comment than has "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine," which is at the Atlanta this week. The scenic splendor of the production, the truthfulness of the characterization and the finish of the players' work is remarkable. All Atlanta is showing interest because of the fact and the crowds are large at each performance. Tomorrow afternoon a matinee will be played with the last performance tomorrow night.

Paul Rainey Pictures.

(At the Atlanta.)

Seats are now selling at the Atlanta for the return engagement of the wonderful pictures of Paul J. Rainey's African hunt. These pictures will be given all next week with matinees daily at 3 o'clock. They are pronounced the most wonderful ever staged and have created untold praise from all classes. Bankers, financiers and other notables are a unit in praising them. They open Monday afternoon.

Thomas E. Shea.

(At the Lyric.)

Thomas E. Shea will appear at the Lyric theater next week in three plays, "A Man and His Wife," "The Bells" and "Dr. Jekyl and Mr. Hyde." Mr Shea's opening play, "A Man and His Wife," is a great play of everyday life and includes several very tense scenes, especially that of the run on the bank, after which the relief of the home-coming to the quiet of the Maine woods, where the man and his wife are reunited.

"Madame Sherry."

(At the Lyric.)

"Madame Sherry," which has established the title of being the best and most diverting musical attraction that has been given the public in recent years, is drawing large audiences this week to the Lyric. The company has been well selected and from start to finish the piece is bright, snappy and pleasing.

Operatic Company.

(At the Tabernacle.)

The International Operatic company, which sang in concert last night at the Tabernacle as the sixth number on the Ackhart Lyceum course, scored success with a large and appreciative audience. Early in the evening the people began to gather and when the time for the opening number arrived almost every seat in the spacious auditorium had been taken.

The opening number, "Greeting to Spring," was so well rendered by the company that they were immediately introduced into the good-will of the audience, and encore after encore followed. The program included solos, duets, quartets and the entire second act of "Martha," which was splendidly interpreted and beautifully rendered by the quartet in full comtume.

The company is splendidly balanced with thoroughly trained and talented artists, of experience, and are fully capable of singing, not only in concert, but also the operas. Mrs. McKinnie, soprano, and Mr. McKenzie, baritone, were especialy strong in their work and were enthusiastically received.

Wanted for Wire Tapping.

New Orleans, December 12.—Charles J. Walker, who was arrested here last night as a suspicious character, was declared by the police today to be wanted in New York city in connection with a wire tapping swindle in which K. C. Sidbury and A. C. Towell, of Wilmington, N. C., were recently relieved of $25,000.

ROSSERS WIN IN SUIT FOR PERSONAL INJURIES

Verdicts of $750 each were given in the superior court yesterday in the damage suits of the late E. B. Rosser and Mrs. Rosser against Jacob H. Hirsch, whose automobile crashed into their surrey on Peachtree road last May.

The damage suits, each for $25,000, were filed in September shortly before the death of Judge Rosser whose condition was said to have been made much worse by the injuries and shock.

Judge Rosser and his wife were out riding in their surrey near Brookwood at the time of the accident and when the machine crashed into their vehicle from the rear they were both thrown to the ground and painfully injured.

The suit was filed by Stiles Hopkins and Rosser & Brandon. Judge Rosser was a cousin of Luther Z. Rosser, of the law firm of Rosser & Brandon.

Leland Hume Vice President.

Nashville, Tenn., December 12.—Following a meeting of the directors of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company here today, it was announced that Leland Hume, former general manager, had been elected vice president of the Cumberland and Southern Bell Telephone companies, with headquarters at Nashville. T. D. Webb was elected treasurer of the two companies. Nashville will be headquarters for a new division consisting of northern Alabama, Tennessee and southern and western Kentucky.

DECATUR ASKS FOR AID AS FIRE THREATENS CITY

The residence of Edward O. Miles in Decatur, was practicaly destroyed by fire yesterday morning and only after Decatur citizens had appealed to the Atlanta fire department were the flames, which were fanned by the high wind, kept from spreading to other houses.

Chief Cummings was notified of the fire and sent Captain Harrison from the Inman Park fire house on the 4-mile run to the county seat of DeKalb with Atlanta's only automobile fire wagon. They soon had the flames under control and saved the first floor from actual destruction.

Mr. and Mrs. Miles and their children escaped without harm, but had not time to save any articles of furniture or clothing. The damage to the house and contents is estimated at $6,000. The family went to the home of Tom R. Miles on North avenue, where they spent the night.

Shriners Will Parade.

Members of the Yaraab temple, Imperial Order of the Mystic Shrine, will parade the streets of Atlanta this afternoon about 5 o'clock. The parade will form on East Cain street near Peachtree street, and will move toward the city with a large number of nobles. Al Sliah temple, of Macon, will have a large delegation in line, while the Red Men's drum corps, the Yaraab novices, the camels, patrol and all the other features of the order will have prominent places.

ALLEN'S $5 Boots Are the Best Shoe Values in Atlanta

Specializing, as we do, on footwear for women and children only, we search the markets for the best manufacturers to supply our footwear in each grade. At $5.00 we find that we are selling more pairs of shoes than at any other one price, and naturally, we are striving to offer the largest choice and best values obtainable at that price.

We have no less than five separate and distinct makers whose boots we are retailing at $5.00 a pair. It must be a very unusual request that we cannot supply or difficult foot to fit that cannot find just the right style or size shoe in Allen's Special boot at $5.00.

Over 70 styles are here at $5.00—in velvet, satin, suede, patent gun metal, mattkid, tan and brown Russia calf, white buckskin. Every last imaginable from the low heel English to the high Cuban. Button, lace or combination boot pattern.

A pair of these would make someone a splendid present for Xmas.

HOLIDAY SUGGESTIONS

DIAMONDS. The care given to the selection of our Diamonds makes this the one house where anyone, however unfamiliar with diamond values, may purchase without risk.

Before we presume to show our gems they are subjected to the closest examination by our diamond expert, and the weight, grade and price is marked on each tag in plain figures.

Our mountings are selected with the same care and attention. In their selection we keep squarely before us three thoughts—durability, insuring against loss of the stones; beauty of construction, insuring the greatest value of the gems as ornaments; and price, which must be as low as possible, consistent with the best.

CHANCE IS FREE TO LEAD YANKEES

Manager McGraw Waives Claim On Old Rival in Pennant Fights

New York, December 12.—There is nothing now to prevent Frank Chance, former manager of the Chicago Nationals, from signing a contract to manage the New York Americans, according to announcement this afternoon that a telegram had been received from Manager John J. McGraw, of the New York Nationals, waiving claim on his long-time rival in league pennant fights. The New York club was the last of the National league clubs to waive.

McGraw's willingness to follow the lead of the other clubs in his league had not been questioned, as he and Chance are close friends personally, and the New Yorker has been known to favor Chance for the leadership of the Highlanders. The New York manager was in Pittsburg when the question of waivers came up to make Chance finally a free agent, or the waiver would have been forthcoming sooner, McGraw's friends said.

CHARLOTTE PLAYS HERE SATURDAY

The second game of the 1912-13 basketball season of the Atlanta Athletic club will be played at the club's gymnasium on Auburn avenue tomorrow night with the Charlotte Young Men's Christian Association as the opponents of the local quintet.

This game promises to be one of the best games that has been played in this city in years. The last time that the Charlotte bunch played here, which was about two years ago, the Carolinians were returned the victors by a close score.

As Charlotte is regarded as the champions of the Carolinas, a victory for the local bunch would boost their ranking among the teams of the south.

The club team will be stronger for this game than it was at the opening. Walter Bubard, the team's regular center, will be in the fray, with the rest of the team the same as in the game with Bessemer.

The usual dancing features after the game will be engaged in. Miss Winona Winters, the Georgia girl who is starring at the Grand this week, will act as sponsor for the Charlotte bunch. Miss Carolyn King will be the Atlanta club's sponsor.

MORE MONEY IS FIRST IN THE ALL-AGE STAKE

Montgomery, Ala., December 12.—More Money is a three times winner this season. He carried off the all-age event at Letohatchie today, marking the end of the southern field trials. More Money handled his birds well, and handled by his owner, J. M. Avent, of Hickory Valley, Tenn., made the prettiest race of the trials against Melrose Mohawk, owned by J. W. Considene, of Seattle, Wash. Melrose Mohawk was awarded second prize and George Clay, a shifty little setter, took third money.

Mobile, a field trial winner, was not in the running when it came to a final decision. He had previously been victorious over the courses, but showed off form today.

Roosevelt Leaves Chicago.

Chicago, December 12.—Colonel Roosevelt left for New York this morning after having spent three days at the progressive conference here. The colonel left his hotel practically unobserved, accompanied by Governor Robert P. Bass, of New Hampshire, and Medill McCormick. The party motored to the railway station. "Goodby, boys; I've had a grand time," was the colonel's parting remarks.

$1,000 FIRST PRIZE.

$1,000 represents the savings of many years' hard toil to some people, and yet you may win that amount by only a few hours pleasantly spent in solving the "Georgia Map Puzzle." Morris Must Box Kubiak To Square Self Locally; Denies Any Framing Up

By Dick Jemison.

To square himself with the Atlanta fight fans and scribes, Carl Morris, the Oklahoma white hope, has but one alternative. He must fight Al Kubiak, the Michigan giant, next Tuesday night.

It is doubtful if there is one man in a hundred in Atlanta who does not believe that Morris was mixed up in a frame-up, both here and in Chattanooga. Morris can remove this opinion by meeting Kubiak, and by battling his fiercest from the tap of the first gong until the last.

Morris visited the Constitution office Thursday morning. He denied complicity in the frame-up. Before making any statement whatsoever, Morris said that no doubt every one thought he was mixed up in it, and no matter what answer he would make to the charge he would be prejudged, and what he said would have no weight.

Morris Denies Complicity.

He denied any complicity in the Chattanooga deal. He claims that he did not know who he was going to meet until he got to Chattanooga, never for an instant believing that the Bob Williams he was matched with was his own sparing partner. When he did find it out he told the promoters and scribes so, and they insisted on his going on with the bout.

This put it right up to the Chattanooga promoters and scribes. Had Morris been framing up, his friends say, he would not have given Keating, alias Williams, the unmerciful lacing that he did. There would have been a love feast and at stall throughout the entire battle.

Keating's right eye was closed. His left ear had a nice cauliflower started. Three theeth were missing and his cheeks were nothing but pulp. This was Wednesday night in Atlanta, twenty-four hours after the battle. Keating has since hurriedly departed to parts unknown.

He says: "I don't want to box Kubiak, if the local fans and scribes continue to think that I was in a frame-up. I never have been mixed up in one. And if they think I was, the quicker that I get out of their midst the better it will be for them, for the local promoters and for myself. Everyone has the suspicion that I was not on the level, and this would react, should this Kubiak happen to prove easy."

Morris Surprised.

"As for my framing with this Keating, I admit that he was my sparing partner, and being such it looked mighty shady for me to box him under another name in Chattanooga. But Keating left here to all intents to box in Shreveport, and no one was any more surprised that I, to find him in Chattanooga and scheduled to meet me.

"I promptly told the promoters who this fellow was, and took particular pains to tell Foster, of the Times, and Butler, of the News, every one insisted that I go on with the bout. I then decided too, promising them that I would make as short work of the fellow as possible.

"And that it was no brother in law stunt is proven by Keating's looks after the mill. Ask any one who has seen him since he returned to Atlanta. Would I have knocked him down five times in two rounds, and knocked him cold in the third, if we had planned any friendly sparring bout? I ask you that as a fair question. Every one is entitled to his own opinion on the whole matter. I have no more to say."

Whether the Morris-Kubiak bout will come off, remans to be seen. Morris has his trunk packed, ready to hike back to his home in Oklahoma. He will not give the local promoters his answer until today. The big fellow really seems to be hurt over the accusations.

BOBBY WALTHOUR WAS UNCONCIOUS

When Picked Up After Collision But Soon Recovered---Twelve Teams Still Bunched,

New York, December 12.—Several exciting incidents marked the continuance of the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square Garden tonight, but neither accident nor spirit eliminated any of the riders or changed their relative positions. The score at the end of the ninety-sixth hour at midnight was 1,874 miles and 7 laps for twelve of the fourteen teams, with the Suter brothers and the Carman-Lofres teams each two laps behind the leaders. The record was 3 miles 6 laps ahead of the best previous performance by Walthour and Collins in 1909.

Oscar Egg, of the French team, crashed into Bobby Walthour's wheel on one of the turns shortly before 10 o'clock. Both were thrown. While Egg regained his feet and wheel, Walthour was picked up unconscious; but it was found he was not seriously injured, and he later reappeared on the track.

Between 9 and 11 o'clock there were several sprints. In the most sensational one, at 10.35 o'clock, the Grenda-Pye combination seemed to have practically gained a lap, but the referee did not allow it on the ground that the riders had not quite overlapped the leaders when the sprint ended by a puncture of Fogler's tire.

The riders kept up a fast pace during the next hour, making over 20 miles, and at 1 o'clock the total for the twelve leaders stood at 1,895 miles 6 laps, which is 4 miles 6 laps ahead of the Kramer-Moran record of 1911. The Suter brothers and the Carman-Lofres teams still were two laps behind.

Valdes Hotel is Open.

Valdosta, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—The Valdes hotel, which has been closed for about three months, while improvements are being made to the house, will open its door in January. The interior has been completely overhauled and changed and a new steam heating equipment and elevator installed. Every room will have bath attached, with shower baths connected with many of them. Complete and modern changes have also been made in the kitchen and dining room.

ATLANTA LEAGUE TO OPEN SEASON

Two Games Scheduled For Tonight. Sixth Team to Be Added Later.

The Atlanta Basketball league will open its second annual season tonight, with but five teams composing the league, though a sixth team will probably be added in time to participate in the second series of games.

The Knights of Columbus team will not play a league game tonight, but a practice game with Marist, as the sixth team was scheduled to play them. The other games scheduled for the night are Wesley Memorial v. Fifth Regiment, at the armory, and the Atlanta Athletic club v. the Y. M. C. A., at the Y. M. C. A.

Georgia Tech is planning turning out a team this season, and if they do they will be entered in the Atlanta league. They have expressed a desire to do so, and the league is willing to let them enter if they so desire.

Albert Blanchard, who is official referee of the Atlanta league, will have charge of one of the games tonight, and he will appoint an assistant to handle the other.

COMPANY C AND AGOGAS WIN GAMES IN FULTON

Club Standings.

CLUBS.	Won.	Lost.	P. C.
Company C	2	0	1.000
S. V. D.	2	0	1.000
Agogas	1	1	.500
Y. M. C. A.	1	1	.500
G. A. C.	1	1	.500
Post Athletics	1	1	.500
Company H	0	2	.000
Baracas	0	2	.000

Results Last Light.

Company C 17, Baracas 14.
Agogas 22, Company H 12.

By Ogie Grice.

The Baraca team came near defeating the champion Company C team in the first game last night in the Fulton league. Company C appeared to be slightly off, while the Baracas showed great improvement in every respect from last week. Cagle, unlimbered and rolled in six points. Hal Davidson played one of the hardest games of the season, his great defensive work largely being responsible for the close score. The entire Baraca team played aggressively and consistently.

The C team led by only 1 point at the end of the first half and C scored 9, making the final court 17 to 14 in favor of C.

The game was a bit rough, but fouls were called in about equal numbers on each team.

Agogas Trim H.

Smith, forward for the Agogas, was "right" and the guards of H were "wrong" and the Agogas won out on this account, 22 to 12, the Agogas scoring 11 points in each half, and C company 6 in each half. At center neither team had any great advantage, nor in the other positions, except in the case of Smith. H's forwards lost a lot of chances.

Just after the close of the last game, Sergeant Wilson made a rush for a bunch of newsboys, who had made more noise than was considered necessary. All the newsies escaped except one, who was marched to the detention room sobbing, to await the arrival of the police patrol. The newsies raise cain nearly every night, and often go on the court for scuffles.

"BIG SIX" SHARK AT CHECKER GAME

New York, December 12.—Christy Mathewson, who at certain seasons of the year is known to the public as a baseball pitcher, took his famous right arm to the West Side Y. M. C. A. last night and used it in maintaining his reputation as champion checker player of uptown New York.

His opponents were seventeen picked players from the ranks of Y. M. C. A. Checker association. The games were played simultaneously, the players sitting in a long oval with "Matty" inside, moving slowly from board to board. Thirty minutes after play began Mathewson scored his first victory.

An hour and fifteen minutes later it was formally announced that seventeen games had been played. The pitcher had won thirteen, lost three and the seventeenth game was a draw.

M'CARTY A PEST AT THE START

Chicago, December 12.—Luther McCarty's perseverance was his principal asset as a boxer when he first decided to become a prize fighter, according to a story told last night by Bill O'Connell, a local trainer. The man, who on Tuesday night vanquished Jim Flynn at Los Angeles, was considered a "pest" by O'Connell and finally was told to stay away from the gymnasium. McCarty refused to do as he was told and finally the doorkeeper was instructed to keep him out.

"In spite of everything I did to discourage him," said O'Connell, "he persisted in coming around. Finally I tried to get him a manager, but no one cared to take a chance with him. Then he started out on his own accord and found a manager himself. He was an apt pupil and rapidly developed into a good boxer. He has all the qualifications of a champion and I have to admit that I was fooled by him. I expect him to become the white champion."

New Swiss President.

Berne, Switzerland, December 12.—The Swiss federal assembly today elected as president of the Swiss confederation former President Edward Muller, at present chief of the military department. M. H. Hoffman, chief of the department of justice and police, was elected vice president.

COMPOSITE PICK ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Gleaning the picks of twenty-three newspapers, the following composite All-American football team is found:

End—Bomeister, Yale.
Tackle—Storer, Harvard.
Guard—Shenk, Princeton.
Center—Ketcham, Yale.
Guard—Brown, Navy.
Tackle—Englehorn, Dartmouth.
End—Felton, Harvard.
Quarterback—Pazzetti, Lehigh.
Halfback—Brickley, Harvard.
Halfback—H. Baker, Princeton.
Fullback—Thorpe, Carlisle.

Charlie Brickley and James Thorpe were picked on every All-American eleven, while Bob Storer, the Harvard tackle, was given a place on all but two.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE MOGULS FEAST FRIDAY, MEET SATURDAY

Birmingham, Ala., December 12.—(Special.)—Everything is in readiness here for the annual meeting of the Southern league and directors' meeting which will be held here Friday and Saturday.

President R. H. Baugh, of the Birmingham club, who is arranging for the entertainment of the visiting magnates, states that all arrangements for the meetings are complete. Advice from President Kavanaugh, of the Southern league, says that the directory meeting will be held the day following. The meetings will take place at the Hillman hotel here.

Despite the rumors that important matters involving considerable discussion will come up before the meeting neither President Baugh nor President Kavanaugh expect any serious rupture. The various matters will be decided to the best interests of the league as a whole, is the gist of a statement given out by the local magnate today. The harmony that has marked the Southern league meetings heretofore is expected to again prevail, and the various differences of the magnates settled without any considerable fractures.

On Friday evening the visiting directors and managers will be entertained at a banquet given in their honor by the Birmingham Baseball association. The banquet will be held at the Hillman hotel, the headquarters of the visiting magnates, and will be strictly a social affair.

S. I. A. A. TROUBLES ARE BEING PROBED

Charges Against Kentucky State and Miss- University Considered Behind Closed Doors.

New Orleans, December 12.—Troubles of the athletic departments of institutions represented by the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic association were threshed out today at a meeting here of the council of athletics, held behind closed doors. Nothing was given out for publication, but it was said that the findings will be presented to the annual convention here of the association for ratification, which meets at Tulane Friday.

Probaly the most important case, as far as this section is concerned, is the barring of Quarterback Fletcher, of the University of Mississippi eleven, which resulted in the athletic officials and players calling off the twelfth annual Thanksgiving day game, with the Mississippi Agricultural and Mechanical. It is understood action in this case was deferred until tomorrow. Representatives of both sides of the controversy are here.

Friends of Fletcher base their contentions in his behalf on an affidavit that the only thing upon which a charge of professionalism could rest is that he coached a football team for the Ada, Ill., high school. Fletcher admits this, but contends that he received no compensation for his work.

The Kentucky State college, suspended during the 1912 football season, is represented here by a number of officials. The suspension resulted from the charge that Kentucky repeatedly used ineligible players, both in baseball and football games after being warned by Southern Intercollegiate Atheltic association. Professor Frank L. Rainer, of Central university of Kentucky, Danville, who made the charges, and Judge W. A. Barker, president of Kentucky state, and Professor J. J. Tiger are also here.

Kentucky State university, it is understood, was reinstated after consideration of a pledge by President W. A. Barker, of the university, that athletics would be raised to a higher standard, and hereafter no coach or physical direotor would officiate as a member of the faculty board and rule on the eligibility of players.

The Howard university, of Birmingham, was suspended permanently for failing to attest the eligibility of their players before entering them in collegiate athletic events.

MORDECAI BROWN MAY BE UMPIRE

Chicago, December 12.—The status of Mordecai Brown, former pitcher for the Chicago National league team, which has been in doubt, was settled today by William Neal, of the Louisville club, of the American association.

He said Brown belonged to Louisville, which wanted him as a pitcher for next reason, but that the club would not stand in the way if Brown desired to better himself by accepting a position as umpire in one of the big leagues.

According to Neal, Brown has been offered a position on the umpiring staff of the National league.

BETS ON CALIFORNIA GO TO ROOSEVELT MEN

San Francisco, December 12.—Twenty-five thousand dollars staked on the California eelction will be paid off here tomorrow by Commissioner Tom Corbett. Those who bet that Roosevelt would carry the state win.

During the weeks that the result hung in doubt, Corbett decided to name as winner the candidate who carried a majority of the electoral delegation. Roosevelt won both in the electoral college delegation and by a popular plurality. The odds were 2 to 1 on Roosevelt.

Cornell to Row Harvard.

Ithaca, N. Y., December 12.—Cornell will row Harvard on May 24 next in 'varsity and freshman eight-oared races. Cornell will not again play Pennsylvania State at football. These two announcements were made by the athletic council today. The management gives no reason for dropping Pennsylvania State.

AUSTRIA KEEPS EUROPE FEARFUL

Many Believe That Servia Will be Attacked on One Pretext or Another.

Paris, December 12.—The continued Austrian mobilization which, accompanied by heavy expenditure of money in that country, has resulted in the disturbance of commerce and industry, is causing considerable uneasiness here.

Austria's tactics on the eve of the Balkan peace conference and the meeting of the European ambassadors in London are not understood, although assurances have been received in Paris that Austria is bent upon peace if what is called honorable peace be possible.

The Temps, which is considered to reflect the views of the government, thinks everything tends to confirm the feeling of uncertainty and uneasiness.

Reviewing the attitude of Austria during the last six months, the paper points out that in 1909, when she had to defend the annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina, Austria made military preparations on a considerably smaller scale than those she has recently undertaken and also that Austria is making these preparations in the presence of a pacific Russia and a Servia which is ready to abide by the will of the great powers.

Other conservative opinion in Paris is that impartial observers must conclude that the cabinet at Vienna is making ready to attack Servia on one pretext or another, or wishes to be master of the negotiations at London.

PEACE COMMISSIONS ARRIVING IN LONDON

London, December 12.—The Greek, Servian and Montenegrin peace commissions arrived in London tonight from Paris. They were greeted at the Charing Cross station by a cosmopolitan crowd, which included members of the various legations.

The Greek premier, M. Venizelos, and other delegates expressed appreciation of their indebtedness to the British government's courtesy and earnest hope for the speedy and successful conclusion of their mission. M. Venizelos said they were determined to do their utmost to gain a lasting peace, and desired hereafter to be the best of friends with the Turks.

SERVIA INSISTS ON ADRIATIC PORT

London, December 12.—A Belgrade dispatch to The Daily Telegraph says:

"The government has a majority of only a single vote in the skupstina, and, although all parties loyally supported the cabinet in the war, now that the peace conference is opening, the opposition party has outlined certain limits, including an unconditional independent outlet to the sea. The opposition warns the government not to repeat the mistakes of 1909 through fear that Servia might remain isolated.

"A tragic incident has occurred at the military hospital here. A Servian officer who was captured by Albanians had his eyes put out and his nose and ears severed. During his convalescence his mother was admitted to see him, and was so shocked at his appearance that she fell dead."

$125,000,000 Loan for China.

Pekin, December 12.—Representatives of the six power group will refer to the conference of their chiefs, to be held at London tomorrow, the dratf of a contrate for a loan of 125,000,000 secured by the Salt Cabelle. This provides for a settlement with the Crisp syndicate and practicaly eliminates monopoly and substantially reduces the foreign supervision over China's expenditures previously proposed.

Eat Anything Without Fear

Tightness of the Stomach Caused by Undigested Food Stopped with a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet.

When you feel as if your stomach was being tightly choked—when the pain is intense and you break out in a cold and clammy perspiration and there is a lump in your throat and you are weak and nauseated—all you need is a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet to clear away the wreckage of undigested food left in the stomach and intestines and restore you to your normal self again. And this can all be accomplished within a few moments.

You May Have Often Envied the Hearty Eater! Why Not Emulate Him?

Thousands of people have learned so well how sure and dependable Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for all stomach ills that they now eat anything they want without fear of distress. They are never without a package at home and at the office, and upon any indication that the stomach is a little weary, they take a Stuart's Tablet after each meal for a few days until the digestive organs get rested up again.

This is a splendid plan to follow and always results in much good. The appetite is improved, the food is relished more, your sleep is more refreshing, and your disposition will make you friends instead of enemies.

For Indigestion, Sour Stomach, Belching, Gas, Coated Tongue, Intestinal Indigestion and all Stomach Disorders and Pains—or for Loss of appetite—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are invaluable.

Use them freely—they are as harmless as sugar would be—and are not to be classed as "medicine." They have no effect whatever on the system except the benefits they bring you through the proper digestion of your food.

All Drug stores sell Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The price is 50 cents per box. (Advertisement.)

BANKER IS SHOT CHASING A NEGRO

Police Chief Thought Banker Jones, of Aiken, Was Negro, and Shot Him.

Aiken, S. C., December 12.—Irvin T. Jones, director in a local bank, was shot and seriously wounded tonight by Chief of Police Edward, in a chase after Harris Milee, a negro, charged with killing Bradford Courtney, a well known farmer.

Courtney was shot and killed by the negro on the Courtney farm. The cause of the killing is unknown. A posse was formed by Chief Howard, and search for the negro was being made when Jones, a member of the posse, was shot.

Chief Howard was hiding in a clump of woods near Aiken, on the lookout for the negro, when Jones approached. Each mistook the other for the negro, and in an exchange of shots Jones was wounded in the stomach. The bullet struck his right breast, but was deflected by a bank book. Later the bullet was removed.

The posse still was in pursuit of the negro. If caught it is believed that he will be lynched.

OREGON GALLOWS TO BE KEPT BUSY

Salem, Ore., December 13.—Governor West commuted to life imprisonment today the sentence of John M. Taylor, a convicted murderer, who was one of five men condemned to be hanged here tomorrow. The other four probably will be executed. Governor West had previously announced he would not grant further stays in these cases, an anti-capital punishment measure having been defeated at the recent election, but much pressure was brought to bear on him, it being argued that the newly enfranchised women voters should be given the opportunity to express themselves.

The governor explained his position by saying that to permit the executions would hasten the abolishment of capital punishment.

"I will abide by the wishes of the people as expressed at the recent election," said Governor West.

PROTEST AGAINST GALLOWS

San Francisco, December 12.—Crowds jammed a downtown street intersection here until a late hour tonight at the 24-hour meeting of the California Anti-capital Punishment league. The speakers began their addresses at 6 o'clock and will continue until 6 o'clock tomorrow evening. About fifty persons, men and women, were on the program.

The meeting was first planned as a protest against the hanging of Manuel Bombola, who was to have been executed at San Quentin prison tomorrow. When Governor Johnson reprieved Bombela yesterday representatives of the league said the meeting would take place according to the plans, the protest being directed specifically against the hanging of four men at Salem, Oregon, tomorrow.

Members of the San Francisco Radical club, the local socialist political organization, and many writers and clergymen are included in the list of speakers.

The addresses are being delivered in half-hour relays.

Statement From Wren's Lawyers.

The following statement was given The Constitution last night by the attorneys' representative:

"Relative to $5,000 supersedeas bond given by George Wren, we desire to state that there has been no irregularity. This bond was regularly allowed and assessed by Judge Price Edwards, both of us being present, and also Solicitor General Dorsey was there. The bond was assessed in Judge Edwards' chambers, with all of the above present.

"The formal order may have been misplaced, or it is possible that the formal order was not taken, but the bond was regularly assessed and allowed. If the clerk's files do not now disclose such a formal order, we will apply to Judge Edwards to obtain such an order, nunc pro tunc, which will perfect the record. The clerk and no other official is at fault in this matter, as the clerk's office knew of the granting of the order, and that they were authorized to accept and approve such bail.

"There is no need for any agitation about this matter. If our client, Mr. Wren, is wanted, we can have him here upon a few hours' notice. He is not in any sense a fugitive, and stands ready to abide any final decree in his case. Respectfully,

"R. R. JACKSON,
"JAMES H. DODGEN.

Mr. Jackson is a member of the farm, Gober & Jackson, and Mr. Dodgen was associated with them in the case.

JUDGE MAKES DRUNKARD LOOK AT SELF IN MIRROR

Chicago, December 12.—"Bailiff, get a mirror and make this man take a good look at himself," was the penalty imposed by Municipal Judge Hopkins here today when Robert L. Atkins, an accountant, charged with intoxication, was brought before him. Atkins took a look and begged to be allowed to go to a Turkish bath.

"Hang that mirror on the wall back of the rail, and let it stay there," ordered Judge Hopkins. "I want every man like this to be compelled to look at himself when he is brought to the bar of this court. I would like to have a big mirror put just outside of each cell also. If these men could see themselves as they are, it would cure half of them."

DEMOCRATS CAUCUS ABOUT APPOINTMENTS

Washington, December 12.—Democratic senators at a caucus today authorized five of their number to formulate a plan of action with reference to the presidential appointments pending. In the meantime nominations in the army, navy and the diplomatic service will receive consideration. The objection of the democrats is directed especially at nominations in other branches of the government service. The committee will be Senator Martin, chairman; Senator Hoke Smith, Senator Clarke, of Arkansas; Senator Stone and Senator Owen.

The committee is instructed to obtain information regarding the nominees and to make an investigation into precedents.

COW'S CHARACTER IN EVIDENCE IN TRIAL OF MAN WHO SHOT HER

The character of the defendant is often put into the evidence before the court, but yesterday the greater part of Judge Calhoun's time in the city court was taken up by testimony concerning the character of a cow.

J. S. Galamore was on trial for shooting a cow. He claimed self-defense, charging that the bovine, who answered to the name of "Beauty," was a vicious creature, and that he had only shot her after she had chased him across the front yard and on his porch.

Mrs. T. E. Parker, of 796 Glennwood avenue, owned the cow, and she brought witness after witness into court to prove that "Beauty" was as gentle as a soft-eyed Jersey ever gets to be. She first swore that her 8-year-old twin boys frequently led the cow around the yard by a halter, and that her 12-year-old son milked and fed the animal all the time.

Then J. T. McWilliams was put upon the stand. He owned the cow from the day of her birth until a short time ago, when he sold her to Mrs. Parker, and he told the court that the cow was mild-mannered, even in the days of calfdom when most bovines are frisky to the borders of actual rudeness.

Mrs. Parker insinuated that Galamore, who was at that time a next-dor neighbor, shot the animal out of pure "cussedness." The cow was shot during November, and still lives, but Mrs. Parker claims that her usefulness has been destroyed by the load of shot. Judge Calhoun listened to half a dozen witnesses telling of the meek spirit of the injured animal, and, seeing a score more in the waiting-room, adjourned court until today, telling the jury not to talk about the cow's character in the meantime.

HORSE SHOERS FORM A TRUST

Detroit, Mich., December 12.—The federal government filed a civil anti-trust suit here today against the shoers' "trust." In a petition in equity Attorney General Wickersham seeks injunctions against the Master Horse Shoers' National Protective association, its officers and manufacturers of drilled horseshoes, adjustable calks and rubber hoof pads from continuing an alleged combination and conspiracy to confine the sale of these articles in this country and Canada to horseshoers and prevent their sale direct to horse owners.

Through unlawful agreements and contracts, it is charged, the defendants seriously interfered with interstate and foreign commerce in violation of the Sherman law.

Almost all horseshoeing, the government says, is now done at shops conducted by members of the defendant horseshoers' association, organized in 1903 to succeed a voluntary association also declared to have entered into an unlawful combination.

It is alleged that verbal agreements between the association and manufacturers of drilled horseshoes and adjustable calks provide that such manufacturers will market their product through hardware jobbers under a sales contract which empowers the manufacturer to fix the price at which the jobber sells to retail hardware dealers.

The government asks the annulment of the agreements and the prohibition of the alleged discriminations and practices.

B. H. S. PLANS PROGRAM FOR XMAS EXERCISES

The Christmas exercises of the Boys' High school will be held at Browning hall at the Girls' High school, December 18, instead of in Taft hall as usual. A very interesting program has been arranged. The declaimers will be: Fourth grade, Lipscomb; third grade, Roberts; second grade, Eplan; first grade, Foreman. Lipscomb and Roberts have already won medals at Boys' High school.

The debate will be the principal feature. The debaters are: Affirmative, Candler, McPhail, Gerridor; negative, Lowenthal, Courts, Stewart. The subject is, "Resolved, That tariff should be levied only for revenue."

The boys in the debate are working hard, and will be very evenly matched. Music will be furnished by the combined orchestras of Boys' High school and Tech. High school. Medals will be given as usual by Maier & Berkel and C. W. Crankshaw. The program will be as follows

Music—Orchestra.
Declamations:
First Grade—Foreman.
Second Grade—Eplan.
Third Grade—Roberts.
Fourth Grade—Lipscomb.
Music—Orchestra.
Debate.

CHANCE TO DATE LETTER 12:12-12-12-12 GONE FOR MANY YEARS

Chicago, December 12.—G. S. Faber, a civil engineer with a penchant for chronological dates, figured out last night that at 12 minutes past noon today one may take a firm grip of his pen and write the date 12:12-12-12-12.

If there is a desire to add another 12 to the date line one can wait until 12 seconds after the minute.

Faber figured further that the next time it will be possible to get a like combination will be in 98 years, 11 months, 2 days, 23 hours and 58 minutes. Then it will be possible to write the exact date 10:10-10-10-10.

Charles Quitman Lacey.

Charles Quitman Lacey, 4 years old, died Thursday morning at the residence of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Lacey, 740 Highland avenue. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the residence, with interment in West View.

FRIDAY THE THIRTEENTH COMES TWICE THIS YEAR

For the second time this year Atlanta—and all the world, for that matter—must experience a Friday, the thirteenth. In September this double hoodoo occurred, and although many persons feared the consequences, it passed without any great catastrophe, and probably will today.

Soldiers Are Withdrawn.

Charlestown, W. Va., December 12.—While no proclamation was issued by Governor Glasscock lifting the martial law in the coal strike district of Kanawha county, all the remaining state troops were withdrawn from the zone late today. It is expected that civil law will be restored within two days. For the first time since November 15 the strike district tonight is without the protection of soldiers.

IMPORTANT NOTICE! SOUTHERN RAILWAY Change of Schedules.

Effective Sunday, December 15, Train No. 29, "Birmingham Special," will arrive Atlanta from the East 11:15 a. m. Leave for Birmingham 11:30 a. m., instead of arriving Atlanta 10:30 a. m., departing 10:45 a. m., as at present.

J. L. MEEK,
Assistant General Passenger Agent, Southern Railway.

Afterbury System

IT is impossible with pen and ink to present detail, but the artist has posed a living model in a "Ritz" coat, which conveys a rather impressive picture of a very popular suit.

Aside from the fabrics and patterns, there is much to commend it to men of refinement. $20 to $40.

For the Benefit of Contestants

The Home for Incurables will hold their demonstration Fair at the Old Capital City Club, corner of Ellis Street and Peachtree, on December 13 and 14, instead of where previously announced.

Every lady interested in this organization should make it a point to be at the demonstration.

500 BONUS VOTES

Will be credited to the organization for her attendance.

Closing Date for special Prize 1 p. m. December 20, 1912. It's Labels, not Votes, that win these beautiful pianos, one of which will be given in the city of Atlanta and one outside the city.

Extension of time given on combination offers owing to the lateness in getting some of the contest products stocked with the grocers. The closing date on all clubbing offers will be extended to Saturday, December 14-12.

ABOUT CHICKENS BY "YOUR UNCLE DUDLEY"

To insure prompt answer to your inquiries to this department, write only on one side of the paper and BE BRIEF—the briefer the better. Increasing demands upon the department make it practically impossible to handle long letters.

Address: "Your Uncle Dudley," Care The Atlanta Constitution, Atlanta, Ga.

All communications in reference to poultry advertisements should be addressed to the Advertising Department, and not to Uncle Dudley.

I will publish next Sunday in The Constitution a full list of the specials that have been donated to the boys and girls who will exhibit their chickens at the Southern International show.

Many of these prizes are open to all children under 16 years of age. Others of them have been donated to the members of the Uncle Dudley Boys and Girls' club only.

It will be almost impossible to properly place these awards until Monday or probably Tuesday because so many people waited until the last moment to enter their birds they well nigh swamped our genial secretary, Poole.

When you come to think of over 4,500 birds to be classified, separated and entered on the books, it is a very large undertaking when you have plenty of time, but when you have to do this and innumerable other necessary things in a few short days, it makes the job of running a poultry show simply stupendous.

I have some splendid prizes to give the boys and girls that will please and profit them. Lookout for The Sunday Constitution.

RAISE ONLY ONE BREED

R. A. Teager, Grantville, Ga.—Dear Uncle Dudley: I write you for some information about chickens. I am raising some thoroughbred poultry, at the present White Leghorn and Barred Rock. What do you think of these two breeds of chickens? How many can I successfully raise on one acre of land? How large a house will I need for fifty hens, and how large a yard will I need to have that many hens? Can I build a good incubator house? Give me a good plan for an incubator house? Any information along this line of business will be appreciated very much by me, so please give me all of the information you can, as I am thinking of going into the poultry business in the near future and need all I can get. I get a great deal of information out of The Constitution about poultry. I am raising the White Leghorn and have added Barred Plymouth Rock.

Answer.—In the first place, my opinion is that you can not succeed with two breeds of poultry. They will probably get together, mix and give you all sorts of trouble. An incubator house should be built like any outhouse. The size is dependent on your needs. I should not have a board floor; it should be built on the ground and filled in above the level of the yard with clean, dry sand. It should be absolutely tight. Now, if you are going into the business to produce eggs—and eggs pay better than chickens—you should yard off as many runs as you need, say 10 by 30 feet or larger if you have room. Place one cock if Leghorns twelve to fifteen hens; if Plymouth Rocks one cock to eight or ten hens. Then do away with the cocks and cockerels and let the hens run out in as large run as your space will allow. Let them lay infertile eggs. You can work up a nice business by selling infertile eggs. They keep about twice or three times as long as fertile eggs. People everywhere are learning their value, and are willing to pay 8 to 10 cents a dozen for them above the market price. It will not pay to feed cockerels. Sell them as soon as they are large enough to eat. Keep all of the pullets and let them lay infertile eggs. Your runs as described will furnish you with eggs that will keep you supplied with pullets for the infertile egg part of the business.

A NICE PRIZE.

Dear Uncle Dudley: I am very glad to see that you are trying to get the children more interested in poultry.

I shall be glad to give to the boy or girl entering the best duck in the coming show a setting of my best Buff Orpington duck eggs.

MRS. W. B. FRANKLIN.
24 Whitehall St., Atlanta.

I wish that I had space enough in my column in The Constitution to publish every letter from the boys and girls who have joined the Boys and Girls' Poultry club. There are about 100 of these letters.

I am, however, going to give you two letters from two ladies out of many I have received.

Washington, Ga., Jan. 10, 1912.

Dear Uncle Dudley: I have just seen in The Constitution a notice of the Uncle Dudley Boys and Girls' Poultry club. This is a great work that you are doing in the interest of the boys and girls of Georgia. It will eventually benefit all of the children in the south. You can put me down for six settings of Rhode Island Red eggs to be given to the next six boys or girls that join the club, they agreeing to raise chickens for exhibition at the next Southern International show. I will offer a prize then of $5 in gold for the best bird raised from the eggs given them. Respectfully,

MRS. P. T. CALLAWAY.

Your Uncle Dudley

Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION BEING HELD IN PEKIN

Pekin, December 12.—The Young Men's Christian association's sixth triennial world's convention, which will open here tonight, has aroused widespread interest. Representatives of all the important organizations are scheduled to deliver addresses during the sessions.

Yuan Shi Kai, president of the Chinese republic, this afternoon received 340 Chinese delegates who represent the most important cities, universities and colleges of fourteen Chinese provinces, and he also received thirty American and European secretaries of Chinese branches of the association.

Yuan Shi Kai, addressing the delegates, spoke appreciatively of the work of the association in China. The energies of the associations, he said, were peculiarly acceptable at the present time, when Chinese citizens generally were realizing that with the inauguration of the republic the greatest responsibilities and higher moral obligations evolved on the people.

The president expressed the hope that the time was not far distant when foreign recognition of the Chinese republic would crown the work of the recent revolution and give members of the Young Men's Christian association more opportunity to show the extent of their great influence and enable China to take her proper place in the comity of nations.

ATLANTA'S STRIDES DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

The December monthly meeting and dinner of the Atlanta Real Estate board will be held in Durand's cafe next Friday night. This will be a plank steak dinner and will be the last one of this year. President Glover on Thursday was unable to announce who will be the host at this dinner, but his name will be announced within a few days.

An interesting program is being arranged for the last meeting of the year, which has been the most successful in the history of the board and its predecessor, the Atlanta Real Estate Men's association.

The uniform sales contract, as adopted by the board, will be off the press by next meeting and will be submitted to the board for approval. The contract is brief and simple and it is believed that it will soon become generally used in Atlanta. It is stated at the head of the contract that its form has been approved by the board, which approval is already becoming to be a power in the real estate world of Atlanta.

Lease Announcements.

The Ralph O. Cochran company has leased for the M. C. Kiser Real Estate company to C. S. Fisher 151 Decatur street. The consideration of the lease is $100 per month.

This company has also leased for Mrs. Agnes Turner 33-35 South Forsyth street to C. C. Tedder and C. B. Gilmore. The consideration of this lease is $90 per month. This property was formerly occupied by W. O. Jones' livery stable.

This company has also leased for M. Cohen to M. V. Jett 340 Whitehall street for a consideration of $50 per month.

Piedmont Avenue Sale.

J. H. Ewing has sold for F. C. Steinhauer to a Mr. Spalding No. 1114 Piedmont avenue for a consideration of $8,500. This is a residence on a good-sized lot.

George P. Moore has sold for the Coles Investment company to the Saunders Loan company a lot of what was known as the Porter subdivision for an aggregate consideration of $27,500, or at the rate of $1,250 a front foot.

This lot is on the west side of Peachtree street, beginning fifty feet south of Porter place, and adjoining Gibert & Clay.

New York, December 12.—While the average expectation of today's bureau report was in the neighborhood of 13,830,000 bales, considerable new buying for speculative account took place during the morning, prompted by a feeling that the figures would be much smaller than these. Consequently, the estimate of 13,820,000 was looked upon unfavorably by such buyers, and liquidation immediately set in upon its publication, which caused a decline of 35 points from the highest.

The fact that large operators sold freely up-set general sentiment, and Liverpool's attitude toward the market tomorrow is looked forward to with interest.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, December 12.—Condition of the United States treasury at the beginning of business today was:

Working balance $91,152,400.

In banks and Philippine treasury $30,306,121.

Total of general fund $143,384,845.

Receipts Yesterday $2,439,550.

Disbursements, $4,390,700.

The deficit this fiscal year is $3,891,953, as against a deficit of $21,254,968 last year.

The figures for receipts, disbursements and deficit exclude Panama canal and public debt transactions.

John F. Black & Co.

New York, December 12.—The government guess made the crop 13,820,000 bales, exclusive of linters. This was a little more than the bulls had expected and the market broke about 15 points at once. It had been a dull market until a short time before the issuance of the estimate at 2 o'clock, but it was a wild market after the report. There was very heavy selling and very heavy buying and it was evident that big interests were much at variance in their ideas. The buying seemed to come largely from spot houses, which was a feature in favor of the market. The close was steady at a net decline 11 to 15 points.

Liverpool remained open until New York closed, so that it is due to come unchanged.

The government guess means little or nothing and the break on it puts the market just that much out of line. Tomorrow it will be forgotten.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, December 12.—(Special.)—Before the bureau report was announced the market slowly advanced on the rumor. The national ginners made the crop 13⅝ million with linters or about 13,300,000 bales commercial crop. There were many selling orders based on a crop of over 13,800,000 bales, so that when the government estimate exceeded that quantity these orders broke the market to 12½ for May. At this price, and on the way down, the buying was by the largest houses with Wall street houses selling. In all of the confusoin this was the decided feature. It possibly means that they consider with present crop ideas that this country has sold more coton for export than it can afford to do, or that the markets must readjust themselves until cotton comes here, or that they expect trade conditions will carry prices over 13 cents, or that the next ginners will be bullish. It certainly showed they are not as yet looking for a general slow down in business as a result of the proposed tariff investigation and revision.

BIBLE TEXT DROVE HIM TO CONFESS A MURDER

Tucson, Ariz., December 12.—The scripture text, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden," read in a Salvation Army meeting in Chicago, caused Stephen Laporte to be so overcome by remorse that he confessed to the Chicago police recently he had killed Walter Taylor, a rancher of this section, more than five years ago.

Laporte told this today to the court here, where he was placed on trial. He said he had killed Taylor in self-defense.

RULES MADE PUBLIC FOR PARCELS POST

Regulations Affecting Entire Mail Service Go Into Operation January 1.

Washington, December 12.—Regulations to cover workings of the new parcels post system, which is to go into operation January 1 next, were made public by Postmaster General Hitchcock today. The new system will be effective throughout the entire postal service at the same time and will affect every postoffice, city, rural and railway mail transportation route in the country. Every precaution will be taken by the postoffice to have the mails moved with the usual dispatch and all postmasters, superintendents and inspectors have been directed to thoroughly familiarize themselves and their subordinates with every phase of the new system.

The regulations provide that parcels of merchandise, including farm and factory products (but not books and printed matter) of almost every description up to 11 pounds in weight and measuring as much as 6 feet in length and girth combined, except those calculated to do injury to the mails in transit, may be mailed at any postoffice for delivery to any address in the country. Delivery will be made to the homes of people living on rural and star routes as well as those living in cities and towns where there is delivery by carriers. Where there is at present no delivery by carrier the parcels will go to the postoffices as is the case with ordinary mail.

The postage rate for the zone—that is, within distances not exceeding 50 miles—will be 5 cents for the first pound and 3 cents for each additional pound. Rates increase for each successive one of the eight zones into which the country is divided, the maximum rate being 12 cents a pound, which will carry a parcel across the continent, or even to Alaska and the Philippines.

For a fee of 10 cents a parcel may be insured, and if the parcel is lost in the mails an indemnity to the amount of its value, not to exceed $50, will be paid to the sender.

The law provides for the use of distinctive postage stamps, and there is now being distributed to postmasters for use in the parcel post system a set of stamps of twelve denominations. Parcel post maps, with accompanying guides, are to be sold to the public at their cost, 75 cents, through the chief clerk of the postoffice department.

CHILD IS BURNED WARMING AT FIRE

Little Ralph Mullins Meets a Tragic Death at His Home in Decatur.

While warming himself before an open fire at his parents' home on Germania avenue, Decatur, yesterday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock, the clothing of Ralph Mullins, the 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mullins, became ignited and the child received burns from which he died at 6:45 o'clock. C. H. Mullins, father of the dead boy, is a building contractor.

Within a few minutes after the boy's mother had left the room to go into another part of the house a woman who rooms in the house heard the child's screams, and upon reaching the room found his clothing all ablze, while the boy was making frantic efforts to break through a closed window. She succeeded in smothering the flames, but by that time the flesh on his body had been so badly seared that no hope of his recovery remained.

Little Ralph had just gone into the house after playing on the street, and had taken off his shoes to warm his feet. Being alone when burned, the manner in which his clothing became ignited was not known.

The funeral will be held at the residence this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with interment at Collins Springs.

BETTING MIDSHIPMEN PAY HEAVY PENALTY

Annapolis, Md., December 12.—Punishment, consisting of demerits and deprivation of all privileges for the rest of the academic year, was assigned today to the 400 midshipmen who were found to have violated Superintendent Gibbons' orders forbidding betting on the recent interservice football game.

It is understood the youths practically confessed to having participated in the formation of a $2,000 pool to wager with the West Point cadets on the result of the game.

FLETCHER KILLED BY VESTIBULE

Fraternal Insurance Solicitor Meets Death at Buford.

J. M. Fletcher, 60 years old, a fraternal insurance solicitor, was instantly killed at Buford, Ga., last night about 6 o'clock, when he was struck by No. 37, the Southern railway's fast vestibule. His skull was fractured and both legs and his neck broken.

Mr. Fletcher was working in Buford and late this afternoon started across the railroad just as the train came through the town, running at a very high rate of speed. Bystanders declare that he evidently became confused, and when he started to jump to one side it was too late.

The body was brought to Atlanta last night and is at Poole's undertaking establishment on East Hunter street. Mr. Fletcher's wife is in San Francisco, and the funeral arrangements will not be made until she is heard from. The dead man was about 60 years of age, and was generally known in fraternal and secret order circles both in Atlanta and throughout the state. He has one son living in Atlanta.

FAILS TO GET DIVORCE FROM "ICE BOX" HUSBAND

Macon, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Because a husband is "an ice box" and does not daily demonstrate his love and affection for his wife is no reason why she should be granted a divorce, decided a jury in the supreme court today.

The verdict was in the case of Mrs. Exie Roquemore against her husband, Samuel D. Roquemore, a car inspector. Before the jury Mrs. Roquemore testified that her husband would not speak to her for days at a time and once threatened to whip her with a razor stray. The husband denied all of the charges and said he was a "model husband."

During the trial Roquemore's attorneys filed an amendment to their answer charging Mrs. Roquemore with infidelity, but withdrew it before it got to the jury.

NEGRO PUGILIST HELD ABOUT GIRL'S MURDER

London, December 12.—The negro pugilist, Frank Craig, was arrested here today in connection with the killing of Jesse McIntyre, a pretty young actress, by Annie Gross, an American negress, on December 1. Craig came to London many years ago from New York. He held the middleweight championship for a time.

The negress is the wife of a negro performer. It is said she was jealous of the McIntyre girl and in the early morning hours of Sunday, December 1, gained access to a rooming house where a convivial party was being held to celebrate the departure of Gross and the McIntyre girl on a tour of the provincial music halls, and shot the girl to death.

Hendricks Goes to M. P. Ry.

Baltimore, Md., December 12.—Vice President John T. Hendricks, of the Western Maryland Railway company, announced today that he had resigned to become general traffic manager of the Missouri Pacific railroad January 1.

MILITIA PRESENTS LOVING CUP TO GEN CLIFFORD ANDERSON

At the annual banquet given him last night at the Capital City club by the Atlanta officers of the national guard of Georgia, General Clifford L. Anderson, retiring brigadier general, was presented with a handsome loving cup from the officers. Colonel E. E. Pomeroy, commander of the Fifth regiment, presented the cup. Governor Brown was present as the guest of the officers.

Brigadier General Walter Harris, of Macon, recently chosen to succeed to the command of the Georgia troops, who was unable to be present, sent a telegram to the assembled officers, about forty-five of whom were present.

Adjutant General W. G. Obear acted as toastmaster and among those who responded to toasts were Colonel J. T. Van Orsdale, of the Seventeenth United States Infantry; Major Palmer, United States inspector; Captain Kimbrough, United States instructor; Major Claude C. Smith, Captain H. P. Melkleham, of Lindale, and Colonel Thomas, of the Second Infantry.

CONSUME MORE FRUIT AND CUT LIVING COST

Kansas City, December 12.—That a greater consumption of fruit by Americans would cause a great reduction in the cost of living and raise the geenral standard of health in this country was the declaration of several speakers before the annual convention of the Western Association of Nurserymen, which closed here tonight.

"The people of Europe eat relatively much more fruit than we do in this country," said L. C. Atark, of Louisiana, Mo., "and they are benefitted financially and their health is immeasureably better because of their fondness for fruit."

The association is pledged to lower the cost of production of fruit and improve the methods of distribution, so as to lessen the cost to the consumer, but still retain a profit for the orchardist.

MANN ACT INVALID, SAYS JACK JOHNSON

Chicago, December 12.—The defense which Jack Johnson will make in the federal court when he is charged with violation of the Mann act in bringing Belle Schrieber to this city from Pittsburg is forecast in demurrers filed today.

The demurrers attack the constitutionality of the Mann law and allege that the pugilist's relations with the white woman were not in violation of the federal statute.

In attacking the law's constitutionality it is averred that the regulation of morality is a matter belonging solely to the states.

Hearing of testimony in the case wherein Johnson is accused of assaulting a photographer was resumed in the municipal court.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

VIOLENT BREAK FOLLOWED REPORT

But Cotton Closed Steady at Net Decline of 7 to 14 Points.

New York, December 12.—The publication of the government's estimate, placing the cotton crop of this season at 13,820,000 bales of 500 pounds gross, excluding linteres, was almost exactly in line with the average expectation of the local trade as revealed by yesterday's canvas of New York cotton exchange members, but was followed by a violent break in prices, with the close steady at a net decline of from 7 to 14 points.

The market opend steady at unchanged prices to an advance of 3 points, in sympathy with steady cables, bullish overnight spot advices from the south, predictions of a small estimate from the government and covering of shorts. As the hour for the report approached, without any pressure of long cotton becoming apparent, shorts showed increasing nervousness and shortly after midday the market began to advance sharply. Rumors that prominent authorities estimated the yield at 13,000,000 bales, excluding linters, appeared to add to the buying movement and March contract sold up to 12.85 and the general list to a net advance of from 12 to 18 points.

The market at this time was within 12 or 13 points of the season's high record, made late last month, but realizing became active three or four minutes before the report was published and, immediately the figures were known, the selling was sensationally heavy.

Opinions seemed mixed around the ring as to whether the report should actually be interpreted as bullish or bearish, but it evidently proved the signal for general realizing on long contracts, which had been held either in expectation of a lower report or with a determination to sell out on the government estimate, whatever it might be. From 12.85 March broke to 12.50 and closed at 12.55 bid, with last prices showing rallies of 5 or 6 points from the lowest on covering and the buying, which had been active on a scale down.

Cotton spot closed quiet middling uplands 12.90; do. gulf 13.15 sales, 200 bales.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, December 12.—Cotton spot steady, 1-16 up; middling, 12 13-16; sales on the spot, 1,200 bales; to arrive, 575; low ordinary, 9 7-16, nominal; ordinary, 10¼, nominal; good ordinary, 11¼; strict good ordinary, 12⅛; low middling, 12⅝; strict low middling, 12⅝; middling, 12 13-16; strict middling, 13; good middling, 13 3-16; strict good middling, 13⅜; middling fair, 13 13-16, nominal; middling fair to fair, 14 3-16, nominal; fair, 14 9-16, nominal; receipts, 13,600; stock, 221,226.

Cotton futures opened steady, 10 points up to 2 points down, compared with yesterday's close. Cables were slightly better than due and the weather map was again unfavorable, but neither of these features stimulated buying. At the same time, there was little cotton offering. The market appeared to be well evened up on both accounts. From a decline of 2 points around the first call, the market rose to a net advance of 2 points at the end of the first half hour of business.

The market was dull the morning throughout, but it displayed a very good tone and prices were steadily maintained a point or two above yesterday's close. Nothing but the approaching crop estimate by the government was talked of. All other feautres were ignored. The exchange floor was crowded with visitors from many sections of the cotton belt, but they furnished very little outside business. Ring traders did the bulk of the small amount of trading put through. At noon, prices were 1 to 4 points over yesterday's close.

The estimate of crop at 1 o'clock by the department of agriculture of 13,820,000 bales did not cause much excitement or results in more than moderately heavy trading because it just about fitted in with the popular idea of what it was going to be. Pools were held on the estimate on both the New Orleans and the New York markets and the average of about 150 guesses in each was 13,851,000 for the New Orleans market and 13,850,000 for New York.

Bears appeared to think that the figure offered them an opportunity to depress the market and they flooded the ring with selling orders a minute or two after 1 o'clock. March was the most active month and it quickly fell to 12.73, where it was 25 points under the level ruling just before the estimate and 26 points under last night's close. Support was offered by the bull side and at 1:30 o'clock prices had recovered about 10 points of the loss.

Cotton futures closed barely steady at a net decline of 6 to 11 points.

WHEAT ADVANCED ON BULLISH NEWS

Gain of One-Half to Five-Eighths Cent Shown at Close—Corn Higher.

Chicago, December 12.—Wheat showed decided strength today in line with the stock market, and with bullish news from Argentina. Closing figures were steady at 1-2 to 5-8 and 3-4c over last night. Latest trading left corn with a gain of 1-4 to 1-4 and 3-8c; oats, 1-8 to 1-4c up, and provisions varying from 2 1-2c decline to 5 and 7c advance.

Wheat at no time had a back set of more than a fraction. Aside from the recovery of Wall street values, the most important development was a further cutting down of the probable export surplus in Argentina. The estimate was reduced to 112,000,000 bushels, as compared with 128,000,000 to 136,000,000 bushels in September. Heavy rain and hail storms, which were reported as doing damage in parts of Argentina, gave the wheat bulls timely aid and turned shorts actively to the buying side. Subsequent dispatches, however, from Buenos Ayres, announced that the weather is clearing. Wheat ranged from 89 to 89 7-8, with last sales 5-8c not higher 89 3-4. No. 2 red cash sold here today at 15 cents over the opening price, the greatest premium on the crop.

Corn rose in spmpathy with wheat. There was also talk that the cold weather would bring corn into greater immediate use. May fluctuated between 48 1-3 and 48 1-4 and 48 5-8, closing steady 1-4 up to 48 1-2 and 48 1-8. Cash grades were in fair demand. No. 2 yellow was quoted at 49 and 58 1-2 for carlots.

In oats, unloading of December by a large cash house quickened that delivery. Otherwise the cereal was governed by the upward course of other grain. May swung from 30 3-4 to 33, and closed 1-4 dearer at 32 7-8 and 33. Sustaining orders from packers put backbone into provisions. Most of the list wound up higher by 2 1-2 to 5 and 7 1-2 cents.

13,820,000 BALES COTTON ESTIMATE

Government Makes Crop of 1912-13 2,430,000 Shorter Than Previous Year.

Washington, December 12.—The American cotton crop for the season of 1912-13 will amount to 13,820,000 bales of 500 pounds (not including linters) according to the first estimate made by the government this year through the crop-reporting board, bureau of statistics, department of agriculture, and announced this afternoon. This compares with 13 692,701 bales of 500 pounds, exclusive of linters, produced in the record crop of last year, when the total crop inclusive of linters was 16,250,000 bales of 500 pounds; 11,608,616 bales in 1910, which including linters amounted to 12,005,668 bales; 10,-004,949 bales in 1909, which including linters amounted to 10,315,382 bales; 13,241,709 bales in 1908, which including linters amounted to 13,587,306 bales, and 11,107,179 bales in 1907, which including linters amounted to 11,375,461 bales. The average total production, exclusive of linters, for the five years from 1908 to 1910 was 11,847,270 bales.

The value of the crop, including seed, for the same period averaged $775,822,000, while last year's record crop is estimated to have been worth $839,840,000 and the 1910 crop, $963,180,000, the most valuable ever produced.

The estimated production, exclusive of linters and stated in 500 pound bales, by states, with comparisons, follow:

Virginia—Total production, 24 000 bales, compared with 29,891 bales last year and 12,054 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $1,380,000.

North Carolina—Total production, 878,000 bales, compared with 1,075,826 bales last year and 627,-668 bales the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $58,810,000.

South Carolina—Total production, 1,184 000 bales, compared with 1,648,712 bales last year, and 1,085,866 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $90,120,000.

Georgia—Total production, 1,701,000 bales, compared with 2,768,627 bales last year, and 1,782,-160 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $154,800,000.

Florida—Total production, 68,000 bales, compared with 83,386 bales last year, and 56 158 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $6,250,000.

Alabama—Total production, 1,380,000 bales, compared with 1,714,534 bales last year, and 1,187,707 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $93,100,000.

Mississippi—Total production, 1,109,000 bales, compared with 1,203,545 bales last year, and 1,400,153 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $66,530,000.

Texas—Total production, 4,850,000 bales, compared with 4,266,427 bales last year, and 3,172,-218 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $230,910,000.

Louisiana—Total production, 435,000 bales, compared with 384,575 bales last year, and 586,-451 bales, the average 1906-10.

Arkansas—Total production, 854,000 bales, compared with 939,302 bales last year, and 836,-703 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $51,660,000.

Tennessee—Total production, 280,000 bales, compared with 440,737 bales last year, and 300,867 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $24,680 000.

Missouri—Total production 50,000 bales compared with 98,808 bales last year, and 51,453 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $5,390,000.

Oklahoma—Total production, 1,039,000 bales, compared with 1,002,092 bales last year, and 783,796 bales, the average 1906-10. The value of the crop last year was $55,070,000.

California—Total production, 9,000 bales, compared with 9,790 bales last year.

All other states: Total production —— bales, compared with 7,425 bales last year, and 2,750 bales the average 1906-10. The value of the crop in all other states, including California, last year was $950,000.

AMOUNT AND VALUE OF CROP.

The country's cotton crop this year will amount to 5,612,325,000 pounds of lint, exclusive of linters, the department of agriculture estimated today in its annaul report. This is equivalent to 13,820,000 bales of 500 pounds, gross weight, and makes the crop this year, in point of quantity, second only to the great record crop of 15,692,791 bales, exclusive of linters, grown last year. It is probable that this year's crop may rank as the most valuable ever produced.

The quantity of linter cotton last year amounted to 278,790,000 pounds. With this as a basis, it is estimated unofficially that linter cotton production this year will amount to 461 30[illegible] bales or 235,083,000 pounds, making the entire crop, including linters, approximate 14 311,000 bales, of 500 pounds, gross weight, or 6,847,373,000 pounds of lint.

With an average price of 12½ cents a pound this quantity of cotton would be worth about $853,920,000. Approximating the value of this year's cotton seed at $131 000,000, the average for the past three years, the total value of the cotton crop this year would be about $986 920,000. Should the crop yield this amount of money it would rank as the most valuable crop ever produced.

The department of agriculture's official estimate of the crop last year, made at a corresponding date, was 14,885,000 bales. The census bureau's official report on production for the year was 16,092,761 bales.

Texas, this year, grew the greatest crop it ever produced; the department's estimate placing the quantity at 4,850,000 bales. North Carolina, South Carolina, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Oklahoma and Missouri all produced crops greater than the average of 1906-10.

Cotton Seed Oil.

New York, December 12.—Cotton seed oil was higher at the start, on covering of December shorts and professionals support, but the list turned weak in the afternoon, on selling by refiners and liquidation on the bearish government report on cotton. Closing prices were 2 to 6 points net lower. Sales aggregated 16,800 barrels.

FRUIT SHIPMENTS STOPPED BY FLORIDA

Citrus Exchange Says Enough Has Been Forwarded to Supply Holiday Trade.

Jacksonville, Fla., December 12.—The general manager of the Florida Citrus exchange has ordered all members of the exchange to stop shipping fruit from Florida after Monday, December 16, until December 30. The reason given for this order is that 6,000 carloads of Florida fruit are now rolling or in the hands of northern merchants and that this is enough to supply the holiday trade. In order to prevent congestion or an over-supply of Florida citrus fruit in the north and a corresponding decrease in the price in northern markets, the order was given. As the exchange practically controls the Florida output of citrus fruit, there is little doubt that shipments will be suspended according to the order.

Looking for Higher Prices.

Tampa, Fla., December 12.—Manager W. C. Temple, of the Florida Citrus exchange, estimated today that by January 1 10,000 cars of this year's citrus fruit crop will have gone forward. This will be from 40 to 45 per cent of the entire crop of the state. The exchange, looking for the higher prices that generally maintain in January and February, has shipped but 20 per cent of its pledged crop. Its order to shut down packing houses from December 14 to 30 is based on the fact that 6,000 cars of Florida oranges are in market or on their way. The country's average consumption is 500 cars a day, so that twelve days' supply for the nation are now on hand.

WOMEN SMASH EGG "CORNER"

The Campaign in Philadelphia Forces the Retailers to Reduce Prices.

Philadelphia, December 12.—More than two million eggs were retailed at 24 cents a dozen by the Housekeepers' League today in the campaign to reduce the price of living started here yesterday. The president of the league, Mrs. Dorr, tonight issud a call for additional volunteers to aid in selling the eggs, and for more automobiles to distribute them that a still larger quantity may be disposed of tomorrow. She says the supply practically is inexhaustible and she proposes to "continue the campaign until the retail dealers who have been maintaining high prices have been taught a thorough lesson.

The retailers, who are blamed by the women for the high prices that have been prevailing, are showing signs of capitulating. Two large chains of stores today offered their customers eggs at the price set by the Housekeepers' league, which is at 6 to 20 cents less than they have been charging.

"We are in this fight to stay," declared Mrs. W. B. Derr, president of the league. "If they attempt to put us out of business by slashing prices we will have accomplished the very thing for which we are working. Our source of supply is adequate to meet the demand, whatever it may be.

"While it is too early to announce our plans along other lines, yet we do not intend to confine our campaign to one against the high price of eggs. We have made a careful survey of the prices of meats and other articles of food and we shall wage the same sort of warfare where the public is charged too much."

GOLD MEDAL AWARDED TO ARCHITECT MEAD

New York, December 12.—The National Institute of Arts and Letters announced at its annual dinner tonight the award of the gold medal of honor to William Rutherford Mead, architect. A similar medal is awarded annually by the institute to some American for distinguished services in the creation of original work in arts and letters. It is awarded in a different branch of work each year.

Mr. Mead is of the firm of McKim, Mead & White, architects of the Boston public library, the Rhode Island state capitol, the war college at Washington, the University of Virginia, the Bank of Montreal and numerous other buildings throughout the country, and in this city, Brander Matthews was elected president of the institute; Henry Dwight Sedgwick secretary, and Samuel Isham treasurer.

GEN. EVANS WILL PRESIDE AT CARIBOU CLUB DINNER

General R. K. Evans, commander of the department of the gulf, left Thursday for Washington, D. C., where he will preside as toastmaster Friday night at the annual Caribou dinner, at which President Taft and other men of affairs will make addresses.

The Association of Caribous is composed of army officers who served in the Philippines during the insurrection, and every year they meet and hold a banquet, which is a notable gathering of celebrities. His son, Lieutenant Hornsby Evans, will go to Washington today, to be present at the banquet, also.

Lieutenant A. S. J. Tucker, of the Ninth infantry, Fort Thomas, Ky., has been appointed as an aide to General Evans, to assist Lieutenant Harnsby Evans in the work of the department of the gulf, and is expected in Atlanta within a few days.

WHEN'S A CORPORATION REALLY "DECEASED?"

Washington, December 12.—Over the question of when a corporation is "deceased" in West Virginia, lawyers disputed today before the supreme court of the United States, asking the court to determine whether the Kanawha county circuit court of West Virginia, or the federal court of northern Illinois should wind up the affairs of the American Guaranty company. About $1,800,000 assets are involved in the case.

The American Guaranty company was a West Virginia corporation engaged in investing money under contract for persons scattered throughout the United States. After the West Virginia courts had declared the corporation dissolved, the question arose as to the ability of the corporation to participate in the administration of its property in Chicago.

OLD CREMATORY PASSES WITH FALLING OF GIANT STACK

Atlanta's old $30,000 crematory is down, after doing service since 1905.

The stack, standing 150 feet in the air, and which was declared a menace, was yanked down by a dozen husky workmen and a team of mules. The crash sounded like the roll of thunder. No one was hurt. The old plant will make room for the new $276,000 garbage destructor. The picture shows the stack as it fell and how it was broken on the ground.

WILSON MAY FACE BLACKMAIL GANG

President-elect Summoned as Witness Against Writers of Threatening Letters.

Newark, N. J., December 12.—President-elect Woodrow Wilson may face in court here next Tuesday the three men accused of threatening his life. A subpoena was issued by a United States commissioner late today for the president-elect's appearance and to make this possible he postponed examination of the alleged blackmailers from Monday to Tuesday, by which time it is expected the Wilson family will have reached New York from Bermuda.

The letters which Warren Dunn, Jacob Dunn and Seeley Davenport, who were arrested Tuesday night, are allowed to have addressed to Governor Wilson at Trenton, were opened by Joseph P. Tumulty, the governor's secretary. Mr. Tumulty also was subpoenaed today. In case his testimony as to receipt of the letters is accepted as sufficient proof Governor Wilson may not be required to testify.

The issuance of the subpoenaes was described by Commissioner Stockton as a mere formality, but the commissioner hoped the president-elect would appear.

The threats in the letters were in demand of $5,000 or life and one of them reminded Governor Wilson of the fate of McKinley and the attempt to kill Colonel Roosevelt.

The specific charge on which the three men are held at present is misuse of the mails. Jacob Dunn is the alleged author of the letters. All the men have been known in the Morris county region for a number of years. Neighbors say they were of "an apparently harmless sort."

Federal authorities intimated today that they had doubts of being able to hold the trio. The main evidence is a similarity between the handwriting in the letters and that of Jacob Dunn.

NO WEDDING CHIMES FOR UNHEALTHY LOVERS

Lincoln, Neb., December 12.—Governor Aldrich said today that in his forthcoming message to the legislature he will recommend the enactment of a law to prevent the marriage of the physically or mentally unsound. He has not outlined fully his plan, but it probably will be similar to the laws in other states where registration is required, and if the applicant is not considered eligible from a physical or mental standpoint the license would be refused.

ELKS OF MACON ARE INDICTED

Bibb Jury Charges Three More Clubs With Violating the Law.

Macon, Ga., December 12.—(Special.)—Late this afternoon the grand jury returned indictments against the Macon lodge of Elks, the Cherokee club, one of the fashionable social clubs, and the Seminole club, a locker club, on the charge of violating the state prohibition law.

In addition indictments were returned against Dan O'Connell, proprietor of the Young Men's Social club, charging him with keeping a tippling house open on Sunday; against Mike Moran, who is associated with O'Connell, and against Dock Mullins, who was until recently in charge of the buffet of the Elks' club.

There are still a few locker clubs against whom no indictments have been returned, but as witnesses are still to be summoned and examined, it would not create any surprise if another batch of true bills was returned tomorrow when the session of the grand jury comes to a close.

TOMMY DIXON LOSES TO JOHNNY KILBANE

St. Louis, December 12.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight, won an easy decision over Tommy Dixon, of Kansas City, here tonight. The fight went the scheduled eight rounds, but in the final round Dixon was in such distress that Kilbane refused to land a knockout.

AMERICAN SOLDIER IN MEXICAN PRISON

Negales, Ariz., December 12.—Private Ernest H. Brown, of troop G., Fourth United States cavalry, who shot and killed a policeman on the Mexican side of the international line at Nace, last September, was sentenced to six years in the state prison at Hermosile, Mexico, acording to official advices received by Vive Counsul T. D. Bowman.

Mr. Bowman in reporting to the state department, upheld the action of the Mexican court.

Brown declared at his trial that he was drunk and professed ignorance of the shooting, which occurred in a dance hall.

EXHIBIT GOODS PERMANENTLY

M. & M. Association Indorses Constitution's Plan for Building.

Active steps toward the establishment and maintenance of a permanent exhibit building for the manufactured products of Atlanta along the lines suggested in the Du Bose Firing Line department of The Sunday Constitution were taken at a meeting of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association last night.

Sam D. Jones and V. H. Kriegshaber made enthusiastic speeches recommending the establishment of such a building, and gave a number of practical suggestions for carrying out the plans. The chairman was authorized to appoint a committee to cooperate with the chamber of commerce and get the matter under headway as soon as possible. It is hoped to have a ten-story building with at least 150,000 feet of floor space.

The nominating committee, consisting of Lewis Gholstin, chairman; W. A. Parker and J. R. Little, offered the following names to compose the board of directors for the ensuing year:

L. E. Floyd, J. A. Hirshberg, C. W. McClure, Garnett McMillin, A. C. McHan, J. K. Orr, Willis E. Ragan, Meyer Regenstein, E. L. Rhodes, W. O. Stamps and H. B. Wey.

The plan to have a merchants' week in February was discussed, and a committee of ten was named to take this matter up and make all details. This committee consists of the following:

Willis J. Ragan, J. R. Little, N. H. Wey, Gordon M. Kiser, Meyer Regenstin, Olin Stamps, J. D. Robinson, J. K. Orr, A. C. McHan and W. A. Parker.

The meeting was presided over by H. E. Choate. Reports were received from Treasurer H. B. Wey and Secretary H. T. Moore.

MORE THAN 150 GIRLS MENACED BY DEATH

Chicago, December 12.—More than 150 girls were menaced by death today in a fire which swept through a five-story building in North Fifth avenue occupied by several manufacturing concerns. A panic ensued when the girls made a rush for the doors and windows. Many fainted or was overcome by smoke and were rescued with difficulty.

Fifty girls on the fifth floor crawled out of the windows onto a narrow ledge and climbed to the roof of an adjoining structure, where they were rescued by firemen.

Factory Sites

We are selling factory sites on A., B. & A. railroad inside the city at $8 to $10 a foot for railroad frontage.

These are in the section between Kennedy St. and Bellwood Ave., just a little over a mile out from center.

Factory sites on main streets bring $200 to $300 a foot; the ones we offer are cheap enough to buy and forget about awhile until someone comes along.
